but they do get razzed.

Champ Clark Honey Shuck Restoration Inc. is skewering retired Pike skewering retired banker County Ansel Niemeyer as part of its third annual dinner roast on Saturday, Oct. 28.

The event takes place at the Keely Center banquet facility, 3523 Georgia at the west edge of Louisiana. A social hour is at 6 p.m., with dinner at 7 p.m.

Tickets must be purchased in advance, and are available at the recorder of deeds office at the Pike County Courthouse in Bowling Green. Proceeds will be used for Clark house projects.

Honey Shuck board member and emcee Pat Flynn said choosing Niemeyer was not difficult.

"If someone said 'Pick the nicest guy out of the room to roast,' it would be Ansel Niemeyer," Flynn said. "He's one of the kindest guys. He's willing to help anyone."

Despite the glowing appraisal, Niemeyer says he was "a hard egg to crack" when asked to participate. He had in the past "thought it was entertaining and funny when it was someone else" who got raked over the coals.

It was the cause – the im-schools and graduated in 1966 with a business marketing degree from the University of Missouri.

He served in the Missouri National Guard and joined what was then Farmers Bank in Bowling Green in 1967. The name would change three times during Niemeyer's 35 years there. It is now US Bank. His highest position was senior vice president, marketing officer and secretary of the board.

Niemeyer consulted with another nice person - last year's roastee, Charlene Mc-Cune. Her advice for when the zingers fly is "Just smile"

"She has been one of my most favorite community persons in Bowling Green and I looked up to her even in grade school," Niemeyer said. "She is a very special lady – a real hero in my eyes."

Flynn has put hours into preparations, including sevwith eral interviews Niemeyer.

"You do it honorably," Flynn said of the roast. "If we can't laugh at ourselves, then it's kind of a lonely place. It becomes easier when we have friends and colleagues join in. Truly loving someone comes from a happy place.³

tended Bowling Green Niemeyer has a "bring-it-on" mentality.

"Well, I can be thinskinned, but I can be tough also when I have to be," he said, adding that he may have 'ways about me that can be laughable and different, but that's who I am."

So, does Niemeyer have any funny tales about the people who will roast him? Sure, but there's that darn cordiality thing.

"I wouldn't share without their permission," he said. "Maybe they will be roasted sometime and then I will share.'

Of course, the format allows Niemeyer the last word. Will he verbally torch them or kill 'em with kindness?

"I am a person that would like to have everything I am going to say pre-written, but in this case how do you do that when you don't know what the roasters are going to say?' he asked. "So, I will have to let go of my insecurity and what I will say will have to be off-the-cuff. That could be dangerous. Just kidding. I'll try to refrain and sort of be nice to my roasters. They all are a big part of my life, and I have the highest respect for them." Flynn warned there could

Hunters Take 16,575 Deer During New Firearms Season

From The Mayor's Desk...

October is National Cooperative Month. A Co-op is a producer and business user-owned that is controlled by and operated for the benefit of their members, rather than outside investors. The co-op business model is very flexible and can address a wide variety of needs.

Co-ops are a key part of rural America. It is a business model where local investors help to open new businesses, start new projects, and develop a city's needs and services. The Vandalia YMCA was born out of a group interest in providing recreational, fitness, health, and wellness desires of the community. The same could be done in Bowling Green by interested groups, civic leaders, ranchers, farmers, and independent citizens. It takes financial burdens off individuals that are interested in new businesses, expansion, and/or services. It is a wonderful way to grow sections of a town, a particular commodity, and nurture entrepreneurs. Another example is a group of artists that want to open an art gallery can partner or form a co-operative for the benefit of their members/fellow artists. The more events a city offers, the greater the need for development. The saying, "Necessity is the Mother of Invention" truly applies to the progress of a community. Family growth and nurturing is another foundation of development. A town must meet the needs of young families, or they will move to someplace that offers more opportunities.

For instance, Bowling Green's school system, Champ Clark Honey Shuck, our women's clothing stores, our restaurants, Genealogy Museum, War Memorials and Blue Star tive stores and antique shops, the Amish Community, Heritage and Fall Fun Festivals, Wings and Wheels at the Municipal Airport, Christmas in the Green, Music and events in the Parks. I could go on and mention our Poage and Boland car dealerships, our farm equipment dealerships, Southside entertainment, churches, outstanding police and fire departments and library.

Our financial district along with insurance companies that service our citizens are a part of our city's assets also. I could continue for fear of offending someone whose business or service I did not include or mention, but I'm limited in words in this article. Streets and buildings are another asset of a town and the larger the city limits the more valuable the city.

What about a city's internet service(s), food and delivery services, haircuts and nails, a Chamber of Commerce and volunteer organizations, health providers, inner city transportation and walkability all are a part of a city's success stories, civic pride, and progress. What would you like to see Bowling Green develop as an asset for our awesome city? The will to want to develop a better town is important but the need to plan is vital!

Preliminary data from the harvesting bucks." Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) shows that hunters harvested 16,575 deer during the state's new firearms early antlerless portion of deer season, Oct. 6-8. The top-three harvest counties were Franklin with 489 deer harvested, Howell with 454, and Ripley with 437.

"With deer numbers being at desired levels in most counties but continuing to increase, additional antlerless harvest is needed to stabilize the deer population," said MDC Cervid Program Supervisor Jason Isabelle. "The goal of the new firearms early antlerless portion is to help increase antlerless deer harvest prior to the November portion of firearms season when many hunters focus on

Isabelle added that the timing of the early antlerless portion was chosen to provide hunting opportunity when weather conditions are usually favorable and to minimize conflicts with archery hunters, who hunt most in late October and early November.

"Hunters couldn't have asked for much better weather," said Isabelle. "After a warm start to October, the cooler weather during this year's early antlerless portion helped to increase daytime deer movement and made for comfortable conditions for hunters."

Rural Route Resurfacing Work Scheduled On Route Y In Pike

Weather permitting, a resurfacing project located on Route Y in Pike County, from Business Route 61 in Bowling Green to the end of state maintenance, is expected to begin on Oct. 17 and is anticipated to be complete by Dec. 1.

The $4.7M contract, awarded last month to Magruder Paving, LLC of Troy, Missouri, includes several additional resurfacing projects which are scheduled to begin in spring of 2024, with all projects completed by Nov. 1, 2024:

Audrain/Montgomery County, Route AA – From Route BB to Missouri Route 19 in Wellsville.

Audrain/Montgomery County, Route BB – From U.S. Route 54 to Missouri Route 161

Montgomery County, Route A – From Missouri Route 19 to Missouri Route 161.

These resurfacing projects are included as part of Gov. Par-son's Rural Road program. With the Governor's signing of the Fis-cal Year 2024 budget, an addi-tional $100 million in General Revenue was made available for Missouri's low volume rural roads. Using asset management data, the Missouri Department of Transportation identified 1,567 lane miles of low volume roads ranked in poor condition. These locations will receive resurfacing treatments of hot mix asphalt to improve the road conditions. The roads have been bundled into several large contracts across the state. For more information on the Governor's Rural Roads Program, visit Governor's Rural Roads Program | Missouri Department of Transportation

(modot.org). Traffic will be reduced to one lane with a 9-foot width restriction at the location where crews are actively working. Flaggers and a pilot car will be utilized for traffic control to guide traffic through the work zone. Workers will be present during daylight hours. All work is weather dependent and schedules are subject to change.

Work with us in the work zone. For the safety of the crews and the traveling public, drivers are reminded to be attentive in work zones and put down your cell phones to eliminate distractions. DG Valerie started her Rotarian adventure after reading a newspaper article in her late 20's. Because of its focus on service, aid, and friendship, she committed to Rotary and has risen through the leadership roles to become our District 6060 Governor. While a member of the Rotary Club of Cottleville/Weldon Springs, she also has the privilege of visiting each of the 47 other clubs making up Missouri District 6060 and traveling to the international Rotary conventions.

Valerie highlighted several of the charitable initiatives that are on-going in her year of service, including the Navaho Water Project which provides clean drinking water to areas where 30 percent of the population is without running water. The club does an excellent job of taking advantage of numerous humanitarian gifts that the District offers, most recently receiving a grant to provide workshops at our high school to all girls in 9th through 12th grade. Female leaders from the community present talks aimed to help enhance the group's education, safety, health and well-being.

Valerie's husband Mike, also known as "Sole Man," updated members on the Let's Bury Larry shoe collection campaign. The District is teaming with District 6040 to collect 20,000 pairs of new children's shoes by April 20, 2024, to distribute through the Shoes for Orphans Souls project. Shoes are so much more than a fashion statement, being important to promote health by preventing disease, to give access to education in schools where shoes are required for attendance, and to increase a child's self-confidence.

Gutter clogs, mold growth and owned business) cautions Missouri homeowners about latent damages that might have occurred during the summer, such as blocked gutters, mold growth, and fading paint, which could now surface as we head into cooler weather.

Roof Leaks: Overheated roofing, especially asphalt shingles, become fragile and can crack, increasing the possibility of leaks during rainy seasons. Gutter Clogs: Warped or sagged gutters due to the intense heat can intensify clogging problems and hinder proper drainage.

Drafts: Heat can distort wooden window and door frames, leading to gaps and subsequent drafts as temperatures drop.
