Louisiana Council Approves Appointment Of Ringhausen

City Reviews Proposal For 401 Georgia Street Property

APRIL M. FRONICK • EDITOR
april@thepeopletribune.com
 The Louisiana City Council has all eight seats full again as the appointment of Bob Ringhausen was approved at a special meeting on Monday, July 10 prior to the committee meetings.

Mayor Bart Niedner made the appointment and thanked Ringhausen for his willingness to serve until the April election. Ringhausen took the seat in Ward 4 that was recently vacated by Chris Koetters. Ringhausen was placed on the public safety, enterprise and finance committees.

City Administrator Kelly Henderson notified council members that a proposal for the property at 401 Georgia Street has been submitted by Jay Thomas on behalf of the "Save Our Streetscape" (SOS) group. Thomas told council members at a recent council meeting that the group is comprised of concerned citizens who want to see the building saved rather than demolished.

Henderson informed council members he had received the proposal that day and that he would forward copies to all the members. He told The People's Tribune after the meeting that details of the proposal would be made available later this week.

Engineering reports have confirmed the stability of the structure at 401 Georgia is in serious condition. The city recently hired contractor Danny Orf to stabilize the shared wall with the property at 403 Georgia Street that is occupied by James Davis and his Maxfield's cafe.

Thomas told the council the group is very committed to the restoration effort.

Bridges Start Coming Down

Work is underway on the Noix Creek bridge on Highway 79. The $1.41 million project is expected to be complete by early August. Louisiana City Administrator Kelly Henderson says the city is pleased to see the investment in infrastructure for the long-term success of the town. The new bridge will be expanded to 244-feet long, 38-feet wide with eight-feet of shoulder space and a protected pedestrian walkway on the west side. The $1.14 million Buffalo Creek bridge project will begin in early August and is expected to be done by October. The state established an expedited 80-day work schedule for both bridges.

While it has been a difficult couple of months for Matt Chance and his family, it has also been marked with a great deal of love and support from the community they call home.

Chance has spent the past several years leading the cross country and track teams to titles and championships at Bowling Green High School where he also serves as athletic director. It became apparent something was wrong as this year's postseason started. Chance was diagnosed with cancer in head and neck regions on May 8.

Annual Heritage Festival Will Feature New Parade Route, Beer Garden

APRIL M. FRONICK • EDITOR
april@thepeopletribune.com

This year's Champ Clark Heritage Festival will include some new features as organizers look to boost attendance and possibly extend the hours of the event that is slated for Saturday, Sept. 9 on the square in Bowling Green.

Marianne Everhart, second vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairing the festival committee this year. She noted the parade route will be slightly different and the event will feature a beer garden.

The parade has always turned off of Court Street at the square but this year it will go straight through the square and turn on Church Street to eliminate some turns and make the parade more streamlined and safe for participants. This means the vendors will be in different places this year as well.

"Over the past several years we've heard from parade partici-

United Funds Host Farm To Table Dinner

Sixty people gathered at St. Louis University's Henry Lay Center outside of Louisiana on Friday, June 23 for an evening of good food, fellowship, and generosity. It was the inaugural Buffalo Township United Fund (BTUF) Farm to Table Dinner fundraiser.

The five-course meal was prepared and served by BTUF board members and their spouses. All food items were sourced locally, the vast majority of which was grown or produced in Pike County.

Many individuals and area businesses helped sponsor the dinner donating to help defray the costs of the meal. These included: Henry Lay Center, Meyer Farm, Wood's Smoked Meats, Stark Bro's Nurseries, Twin Pike Roasted Coffee, Helen and Bob Mustell, Karen and Joe Schucklenbrock, Leah Diffey/Diffey's Pumpkin Patch, Martha Weston and Dennis Babbitt, Centenary United Methodist Church and Calvary Episcopal Church.

During the dinner donations and pledges to BTUF were accepted from those attending. With an extraordinarily generous matching challenge donation from Mary and Charlie Perkins of TrailerMan Trailers, the evening was a tremendous success! Based on its success, the BTUF board plans to make this an annual event.

The Buffalo Township United Fund is a 501c3 non-profit organization which raises funds to support 14 different non-profit agencies serving residents of Louisiana and the surrounding area. Therefore, one donation to BTUF helps support programs such as Boy and Girl Scouts, Pike Co. Nutrition Center, Kids in Motion, Pike Co. Head Start, AVENUES, Raintree Arts Council, Louisiana Ministerial Alliance, Louisiana Area Historical Museum, Louisiana Khoury League and more. Over the last 10 years, BTUF has raised and in turn provided financial support to the recipient agencies totaling over $300,000!

Donations are always welcome to help BTUF reach its annual fundraising goal. They may be mailed to BTUF, P.O. Box 501, Louisiana, MO 63353. Help BTUF help those in our community.

MDC, Partners Provide Mentored Dove Hunt For First-Time Hunters

Interested in dove hunting but have not yet given it a try? The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) -- in partnership with the National Wild Turkey Federation, Conservation Federation of Missouri, Quail Forever, Missouri Prairie Foundation, and private landowners -- will provide mentored dove hunts for first-time hunters starting in September.

The hunts will take place on 10 fields primarily located on private land in or near the communities of Cabool, Chillicothe, Hartsville, Joplin, Lynchburg, Mokane, Mountain Grove, Paris, St. Genevieve, and Washington.

According to event organizers, there will be three hunts offered on each field, including one or two on opening day of dove season (Sept.

1) and then one or two other days. Those dates are yet to be determined.

Each field will be limited to two first-time hunters and their mentors per acre to maximize safety and provide a quality experience. Priority will be given to anyone 11 and older who is hunting for the first time. Second priority will be given to new migratory bird hunters and youths 11-15 who may have previously hunted doves.

Field assignments will be determined on a first-come-first-served basis. First-time hunters can attend multiple hunts as registration space permits.

Each participating new hunter will be assigned a mentor and are encouraged to attend a pre-hunt workshop or a hunter-education course prior to participating in a hunt. Workshops provide basic hunter safety in addition to information about dove biology and management, the importance of hunters and hunting, and the opportunity to practice shooting a shotgun.

Register for the mentored dove hunts at tinyurl.com/nuv6gos. For more information on the hunts, contact John Burk at 573-676-5994 or jburk@nwtf.net, or Elsa Gallagher at 660-277-3647 or EGallagher@quailforever.org.

Democrat Club Serves Ice Cream To Local Nursing Homes

Patriotism - in the morning sun, flags are flying everywhere, on porches, store fronts, and town square. Independence Day - it's the people's day. All are united in the love of country.

Love is not stagnant - it requires action, a commitment to a common cause, a commitment to each other, to our veterans, our laborers, and teachers alike.

Over this past 4th of July holiday, members of the Pike County Democrat Club were graciously allowed to serve ice cream sundaes to five local nursing home citizens and staff. What a privilege to meet the residents, the staff and other support personnel. These people have served and continue to serve our country in ways too many to enumerate. Club members were given the opportunity to acknowledge the many contributions these people have made in Pike County and beyond the county's borders.

If health care funding is reduced or eliminated to nursing homes, then our parents, grandparents, people we may not even know, will be in life-altering peril. Twenty three percent of Medicaid recipients are elderly or disabled. Sixty four percent of the dollars spent in nursing homes comes from Medicaid. We stand together in support of a continuation of funding the services that our loved ones need.

Electric Safety Tips While Working Outdoors

Cuivre River Electric Cooperative reminds area residents to be aware of the dangers of electricity while working outdoors. Cuivre River offers these important tips to work safely outdoors:

- Never attempt to move or raise a power line. Since electricity can't be seen, always assume a line is live with power.

- After a storm, only cut down trees and limbs not tangled in power lines. Never be tempted to move any power or communication lines that are down or low hanging. Even if the main power is off, a neighbor could start a generator and create a potentially fatal back-feed of power through a transformer to an entire area.

- Missouri law requires that your electric utility company be notified when you work within 10 feet of a power line. OSHA expands that zone for cranes and construction crews to notify the utility if the work is to be done at 20 feet or closer to a power line. Cuivre River Electric Cooperative will assist with your underground and overhead power line safety requests and concerns.

- Be alert and watch for power lines when operating tall machinery or equipment outdoors. Adjust machinery or equipment to the lowest position before moving.

- Before starting a digging project, Missouri law requires you to submit a utility locate request by contacting Missouri One Call by calling 8-1-1 or visiting www.mocall.com. As a free service, an underground utility locator will mark power lines and other utilities that are buried at the work site. Use extreme caution when using a shovel or other digging tool. By calling to find out where underground utilities are buried, you avoid hazards and keep vital services (electricity, telephone, water and sewer) from being disrupted.

- Always carry a ladder horizontally. Before setting it up, check to see if power lines are located overhead or nearby.

To learn more about electric safety, visit www.safeelectricity.org, www.cuivre.com, or contact Cuivre River Electric Cooperative at 636-528-8261, 636-695-4700, or 800-392-3709.

The Pike, Ralls and Audrain County Livestock Judging Day was held on Saturday, June 24. This year the event was hosted at the Pike County Fairgrounds. Participants judged classes of swine, sheep, cattle and goats. They were also required to give reasons for their placing on two classes and answered questions for one class.

Livestock Judging is a great opportunity for youth to practice decision making and improve their communication skills while learning about livestock.

High individuals in the junior division for Pike County, 13 years of age and under, went to Abbie Waddell. A junior team was selected for each county to compete at the state contest to be held during August in Columbia. Team members are Abbie Waddell, Austin Scherder, Callie Bailey and Clara Bailey.

Others participants from Pike County were Andrew Niemeyer and Lydia Niemeyer. Ralls County was represented by Danny Powell.

Livestock for the event was provided by Brock Meyer, Adam Gatson, Melaney McGaugh, Chris Niemeyer and Scott Brewster.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

The June VFW meeting we voted to donate to the "Back to School Fair" again this year. This is an annual program that furnishes back packs and other school supplies for low income family children in the local area.

There is a group of ladies who meet every Wednesday at the post that make quilts for veterans at the VA home in Mexico. This year they are making bibs for the residents out of towels. The VFW and Auxiliary are each donating 50 towels for the project. They are called "Quilting for Veterans".

Also I learned at our state convention in June that Walgreens has collaborated with the VFW and the VA to enhance veterans' access to mental health resources. If you know of someone that you think has signs of mental issues related to the military you can contact someone at our post level and we can help get in contact with the right people.

Burger King has been collecting donations at most of their stores since 2004 asking patrons to donate $1 or more during the month of November for service members and their families. The donations go to helping our service members financially. Since it's conception they have collected over $5.8 million.

Please consider these businesses when making a purchase. They are serving those who are serving us.

We would also like to recognize the Lions Club for putting out the flags on Memorial Day and Independence Day. The flags around the round-about were very impressive.

Matt Chance said he has been overwhelmed by the outpouring of love and support from the community as he battles cancer. Chance is pictured above chatting with participants in the "Take A Chance And Run A 5K" that was held on Saturday, July 8 at the Pike County Fairgrounds. He has served for many years as the Bowling Green High School cross country and track coach as well as athletic director. Numerous former and current students and athletes took part in the event that was organized by Erin Martin who graduated this May.

spot found on my tongue," Chance explained.

Despite the discovery, Chance was with his team as athletes on the track team competed at state.

His treatments currently include seven weeks of radiation Monday through Friday along with three chemotherapy treatments during this time.

"I have seven days of radiation left and my last chemo treatment is this Thursday," Chance remarked. "I will be finished on July 19 and then will continue to see the doctor for follow-up exams every three months for a while."

While the treatments take their toll and his speech has been greatly affected by the radiation, Chance was able to attend the "Take A Chance And Run A 5K" event that was held on Saturday, July 8. The event was organized by Erin Martin who was part of this year's championship relay team.

Several fundraising events have taken place to help the family as Matt Chance receives treatment for cancer that was discovered in his head and neck in May. He is pictured at The Sugar Shack with his wife Kim and sons Ben and Brock. The Shack donated a portion of proceeds to the family recently.

Work Underway On Dollar Tree, Pike Medical Clinic

Ground is being moved to make way for two new enterprises in Bowling Green next to the strip mall beside Walmart. Soon the city will be home to a Dollar Tree and a new Pike Medical Clinic. Bowling Green Building Inspector Mel Orf said construction should be complete on both this year. The city is also preparing for construction of a new Casey's General Store and The Heritage Place. "I was so grateful that I felt well enough to be there that day," he said.

A great deal of current and former student athletes took part in the event to raise money for the family. Chance noted it was amazing to see them all running again.

Other fundraisers have been held in addition to the 5K including "TeamChance" t-shirt sales and The Sugar Shack recently donated a portion of their profits to the family who stopped by to enjoy a shaved ice treat.

"I have been overwhelmed and blessed. People continue to offer their support through cards and prayers daily. Our community has shown our family so much kindness," Chance offered. "We feel blessed to be surrounded by such caring and generous people. We are so proud to belong to such an amazing community that continues to share God's blessings with others in need," he added.

Chance resides in Curryville with his wife, Kim, and their sons Ben and Brock.

A lot of runners took part in the "Take A Chance And Run A 5K" event on Saturday, July 8 at the Pike County Fairgrounds.

FUNCTIONAL MOVEMENT SCREENING

WHAT IS FUNCTIONAL MOVEMENT SCREENING?

It's seven fundamental movement patterns that evaluate and identify movement limitations and left/right muscle asymmetries. Put simply, it's a trouble-detection system to prevent injuries before they happen. The seven movements place the individual in extreme positions where weaknesses and imbalances become easily noticeable if appropriate stability and muscle balance is not present- which often leads to injury

Weaknesses and/or imbalances are identified and then a customized "corrective exercise" program is given to the athlete and performed to correct the dysfunction.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF HAVING A FMS?

Utilizing the FMS before beginning a new sport or exercise program can help you determine functional deficits that are often overlooked by traditional athletic physical exams. If the weaknesses exposed by the FMS can be identified and addressed, decreased injury risk and improved athletic performance should follow naturally.

Employers may also utilize FMS as a way to decrease on the job injury in workplaces that require physical movement and coordination.

Ryan Pitzer, ATC, with Pike County Memorial Hospital Physical Therapy and Sports Medicine has earned his certification to perform Functional Movement Screenings.

Pike County Memorial Hospital CEO Justin Selle (center) is gathered by staff and board members to cut the ribbon on the new walk-in clinic in Bowling Green. Members of the Chamber of Commerce and the community joined in the celebration that included an open house with tours of the facility. The clinic officially opened on June 29.

FACILITY

The open house was a great success. PCMH staff welcomed guests with refreshments and proudly gave tours of the new facility. There was a drawing for Pike County Fair tickets and Cardinal Baseball tickets.

"We had a wonderful turnout for our grand opening and we are very lucky to have such amazing support from the community. We are thrilled to be able to offer the first afterhours and weekend clinic in Pike County," said Justin Selle, PCMH CEO.

The Medical Walk-In Clinic officially opened on Thursday, June 29. The new after-hours and weekend clinic is located just off the roundabout, in the Century 21 building.

The hours for the new facility are Thursday through Monday 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Another positive is that the hospital is setting it up so those who have insurance would pay the primary care physician co-pay, which is usually less than an urgent care visit co-pay.

MDC Offers Adult All-Online Hunter Education Course

Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) now offers an all-online hunter-education course for Missouri residents 16 years or older to provide a more flexible and convenient option to become hunter-education certified. The all-online course includes videos and animation to teach hunter safety, firearm safety, ethics, regulations, and wildlife management.

"The way adults are learning is ever changing. More individuals are utilizing mobile applications and online tools to educate themselves," MDC Hunter Education Coordinator Kyle Laimore said. "This option provides individuals the flexibility to learn at their own pace and at a time they choose."

Students will receive a temporary hunter-education certificate once they complete and pass the 60-question final exam with an 80% or higher. Individuals 15 years or younger are still required to complete the blended hunter education course requiring both a knowledge portion and in-person skills session to receive certification.

Missouri's hunter education course is required for any hunter born on or after Jan. 1, 1967. Hunters who plan to hunt during a Missouri firearms season or are acting as an adult mentor must first complete an approved hunter-education certification program and provide proof of completion unless:

Fifteen years of age or younger and will be hunting with a properly permitted adult mentor 18 or older.

Born before Jan. 1, 1967.

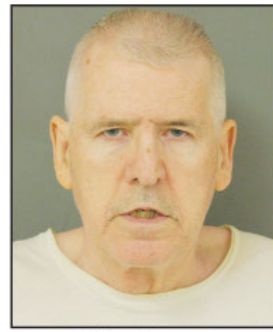

Disability exemption from MDC's Protection Division.

Sixteen years of age or older and have purchased an apprentice hunter authorization and will be hunting with a properly permitted adult mentor 18 or older.

Landowner or lessee hunting on self-owned land or land of residence.

He further noted the city wants to avoid a "domino effect" with some of the declining properties.

Mayor Niedner pointed out the council would need time to review the proposal before taking action, though a decision will need to be made soon.

Another issue the city will be looking to act on soon is the ordinance on travel trailers as work is soon approaching on the Champ Clark Bridge. Henderson said he has received numerous requests from individuals who are considering making an investment to their properties to accommodate individuals who will be working in the area. Currently the ordinance allows for one trailer per lot, but several council members have expressed interest in changing that based on a formula based on space.

Council member Tim Jackson noted a meeting is slated for Tuesday, July 18 to discuss the topic. The council could take action to officially change the rules at the regular council meeting on Monday, July 24.

Henderson addressed the traffic situation during the meeting on Monday. He noted that a portion of Third Street had to be closed off for infrastructure upgrades. He added this is being done in preparation of the state overlay project in September.

During the economic development committee portion of the meeting, Mayor Niedner noted the city is still looking to combine resources with other civic groups to create a unified economic development effort. He explained the city can't afford a full-time economic development director at this time. The city and other entities are still pursuing a unified effort.

pants that making the turn onto the square was extremely tight and difficult, especially with some of the floats," Everhart explained.

She added there may still be some changes and adjustments as planning continues. She said that so far there has been a lot of positive feedback on the changes that have been proposed.

A beer garden will be placed in a closed-off area at the festival this year. Everhart said the committee is also looking to add games in the area such as washers or cornhole. She noted that adding the beer garden was an effort to garner more support for the event.

"We are looking for ways to draw additional people to the festival and we are always asked why we don't have a beer garden like other festivals," she explained. "So we decided to try it this year to see how it goes."

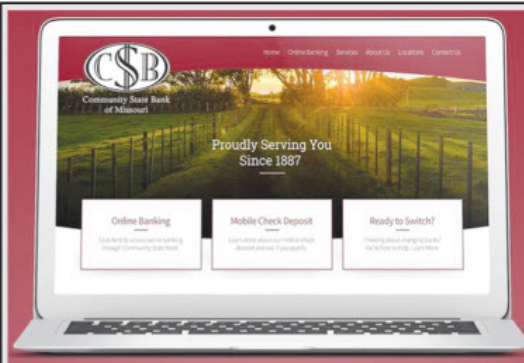

Everhart pointed out the ultimate goal is to expand the festival in many ways including features, hours and maybe even adding a day to the event.

More details will be announced as plans are finalized. The theme of this year's event is "Reflections On The Past." Everhart said the committee is encouraging businesses to enter a float or decorate accordingly.

Naxera Named To Who's Who Ranking

Molly Naxera, who recently graduated from William Woods University, has been named to the 2017 edition of the prestigious academic ranking of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Naxera is from Louisiana and majored in criminal justice and psychology.

Fifteen students from the senior class (including Naxera) were included in the ranking. A campus committee and editors of Who's Who chose the students based on outstanding campus leadership, academic ability, leadership contributions, and community service.

"This year's impressive recipients include campus leaders in various student organizations, student researchers, and volunteers who contributed countless hours of service to the local community," shares Venita Mitchell, university vice president and dean of student life.

By being listed in "Who's Who," they join an elite group of students from more than 1,000 universities and colleges in all 50 states. The program has been celebrating notable students since it was first published in 1934.

For the past seven years in a row, U.S. News has ranked William Woods University as one of the top 100 regional universities in the Midwest. Founded in 1870, William Woods is headquartered on 250 scenic acres in Fulton, MO, and offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in a variety of disciplines in campus, outreach, and online settings. It is a coeducational, independent, professions-oriented institution that provides both undergraduate and graduate opportunities.

Energy Use While On Vacation, Be Prepared For Higher Bill

As many people go on vacation, the last thing on their mind is the energy that will be used while they are gone and when they come home. They are not expecting the bill that awaits them.

Many appliances keep on working, even when you're not home. Cuivre River Electric Cooperative offers a review of some major appliances and what you can do to help control energy use while you are away:

• Air conditioner: According to the National Weather Service, July is the hottest month in the St. Louis region. During the summer months, air conditioning will probably be the largest use of electricity in your home. Regardless of whether you are home or away, if it's 95 degrees outside and you want an inside temperature of 75 degrees, the air conditioner will do whatever is necessary to meet the desired setting. You may save some energy by turning the setting up a couple of degrees. By turning off the air conditioner, your other appliances, such as refrigerators and freezers will have to work even harder.

• Water heater: The water heater is similar to the air conditioner, and keeps water warmed to a set temperature around the clock. You may notice some savings if you have a newer model with better insulation, which keeps the water in the tank hot for a longer period of time.

• Refrigerators/freezers: These appliances are among the larger energy users in your home, especially if they are older models.

Just like the air conditioner and water heater, a refrigerator and freezer will maintain a set temperature whether you are home or away.

• Today's home: Most homes have multiple televisions and home entertainment equipment that feature instant-on capability. Hit the power button and you instantly have a picture. The instant-on feature of nearly every electric appliance constantly uses a trace amount of electricity to give you the convenience of instant power. Many items like microwaves, computers and especially televisions draw power even when they are not being used. Unplugging appliances will also help prevent damage in case of a storm or lightning strike.

Have you considered that you might use more electricity while preparing to go on vacation? Washing, drying and ironing clothes prior to leaving can increase energy use. Many people also go through the same routine upon returning home.

It is important to remember that some appliances will continue to run and the best way to save money is to follow the tips listed above.

If you have any questions about energy use or your appliances, please visit www.cuivre.com.

Cuivre River Electric Cooperative is a consumer-owned electric provider, serving members in St. Charles, Lincoln, Warren, Pike and Montgomery counties.

Louisiana Alumni, Friends Plan Annual Alumni Banquet

Louisiana Alumni & Friends Association are working diligently on the next alumni dinner held during the Colorfest weekend and various other projects throughout the year.

They met on Saturday, June 24 at First Christian Church with President, Sandy Niemeyer leading the meeting.

This group sponsors $5,000 worth of scholarships and oversees a $2,000 scholarship given to LHS seniors. This year the Gierke Family Memorial Scholarship was awarded to Isaac Shade. The Ellen Morrow Memorial Math Scholarship was awarded to Molly Ross. The four Alumni Association recipients were Katelyn Watts, Elizabeth Francis, Gabe Henderson, and Alexandria Cross.

More on the agenda included the digital newsletters, a work in progress, and the cookbook sales with plans to be sold at the homecoming game in the fall. Mike Pratt has been doing data research and discovered that Facebook could be a viable resource for communication to alumni. Mass emails will be sent for verification for contact information. It was also reported that the Alumni Association is a part of the Amazon Smile Project, a fundraising avenue for those purchasing items through Amazon.com. Also another ongoing project is the scanning of LHS yearbooks.

Plans are underway for the annual Alumni Dinner which will be held on Oct. 21 this year. Country Soul is booked as well as the caterer. This dinner is a great and easy way for classes to celebrate reunions. We do most of the work for you!

The next meeting will be Saturday, Aug. 19 at 9:30 a.m., at First Christian Church. All LHS alumni and anyone who attended any grades K-12 in the Louisiana School District are invited and encouraged to attend the meetings.

OBITUARIES

Most in fact could have been, as Dr. Moseley considered his whole community to be a part of his family. It was not uncommon to see Otis giving medical advice at the grocery store, gas station or a restaurant. He enjoyed photography and spending quality time with his family and his many friends located at numerous points around the country. Other than his Children, Otis considered his largest accomplishment to be the involvement he had in bringing what is now Lake Regional Hospital to the Lake of the Ozarks. He used to say, "I have delivered hundreds of babies in this community but that Hospital was by far the largest of them all!"

The family request that in lieu of flowers, memorials be made to: Lake Regional Hospital, Otis Moseley/Fund Development, 54 Hospital Drive, Osage Beach, MO 65065.

Tom B. Turpin

Tom Benjamin Turpin, 86, died Thursday, July 6. Born and raised in Bowling Green, he was the son of the late Tom Robinson Turpin and Emma Ogden Turpin.

A child of the 30's, Tom learned to work hard early in life in the fields around his hometown and carried a strong sense of the value of hard work with him throughout his life. Tom graduated from Bowling Green High School in 1948 and attended a business college before entering service in the US Air Force in 1951.

After completing his service with the Air Force he attended the University of Missouri and graduated in 1954. Upon graduation he embarked on a long, productive career with Armstrong World Industries. His first job was as a sales representative which fit his outgoing, competitive nature very well. While in Los Angeles he met the love of his life, Beverly Joan Unland who became his wife in August, 1959.

Tom and Beverly moved from Los Angeles to Phoenix, Ariz., and then on to Philadelphia and Buffalo as his career in sales management progressed before settling in Charlotte for the long term. Along the way they welcomed sons, Tom (Sonja) and Doug (Nicole) and daughter, Tracey (Kevin) to the family.

While Tom's life revolved around his family and their many activities, he found time to play fun, but very competitive tennis, into his 80's and cherished the life-long friends he made at Windyrush Country Club and at Charlotte Indoor Racquet Club. He also had time to lead his Armstrong team to first place in the company rankings for many many years and took immense pride in mentoring new employees and in helping them grow their careers.

After retiring in 1985 and building his retirement home in Weddington, he discovered that he was not ready to play tennis and pull for the Tarheels full time. He began a second career in sales management with a former distributor from his Armstrong days and continued to excel. Upon his second retirement, he and Beverly traveled extensively in Europe, remained active in Matthews United Methodist church, shared his thoughts on politics widely (including numerous letters to the Charlotte Observer) and enjoyed being a grandfather.

He was preceded in death by his parents and his sister Martha Ann. In addition to his children, he is survived by his wife Beverly, four grandchildren whom he adored (Zane, Renni, Olivia and Logan), two nieces and six nephews and friends from many walks of life including tennis, work, college and his hometown.

A memorial service will be held 2 p.m., Thursday at Matthews United Methodist Church which is located at 801 S. Trade Street Matthews, N.C. 28105. The family will receive friends following the service at the church.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations be sent to Feed the People Food Pantry at Matthews United Methodist Church.

An online guestbook is available at www.heritagecares.com and provided by Heritage Funeral Home, Weddington Chapel.
