Clarksville Gets Assistance For Wastewater System

The City of Clarksville recently received a Small Community Engineering Assistance Program Grant that is funded through the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). This grant is to be used for the development of a facility plan, for planning purposes, and to evaluate how the wastewater system will respond to potential future requirements. Clarksville Mayor Jo Anne Smiley is pictured with Courtney Zimmerman, Environmental Specialist - DNR, and Jo Anne Smiley, Mayor, City of Clarksville.

MDC Invites Explorers To Discover Unique Rock Tunnel Sculpted By Water Near Whiteside

The Sandy Creek Natural Tunnel is located near the town of Whiteside in Lincoln County. It is accessible for exploration thanks to the Missouri Outdoor Recreational Access Program (MRAP).

It's something you might not expect to come upon while hiking to a serene Missouri creek. But there it is—a 50-foot domed cliff of stone. Looming over the creek it paints a shimmering reflection on the pool below. Through the rock stretches a tunnel, 12 feet wide and 16 feet tall, carved clean through by nothing more than the force of water. Light from the tunnel's opposite opening shines like a beacon, an invitation for further exploration.

You've just discovered the Sandy Creek Natural Tunnel.

This marvel is one of Missouri's Natural Areas, locations designated statewide because of their outstanding natural qualities or features. The area is located just west of the town of Whiteside in Lincoln County and is enrolled in the Missouri Department of Conservation's (MDC) Missouri Outdoor Recreational Access Program (MRAP). MRAP is a cooperative effort between MDC and willing landowners to offer private land for public access to hunt, fish or view wildlife.

The Sandy Creek Natural Tunnel property is enrolled in the MRAP Program as a wildlife and nature viewing site. Fishing and hunting are not permitted. The area is open daily from an hour before sunrise until an hour past sunset. Sandy Creek, which skirts the area's eastern boundary, flows into the North Fork of the Cuivre River. It is clear with a bottom of sand and gravel.

Upon arriving, visitors can park on a small grassy patch at the entrance in front of the wooden MRAP bulletin board. Guests are encouraged to fill out a use card to help MDC track visitation to the area.

Pike County Youth Fair Sale Has New Date For This Year

The Pike County Youth Fair Sale will take place this year on Thursday, July 27. The sale will be held in the livestock barn at 5:30 p.m.

There is a potential of selling four steers. The top six lambs and poultry meat pens of which three will be home raised potentially will be sold. The top six hams and hams will be sold. The top eight barrows of which four will be home raised will potentially be sold. The number of animals sold will depend on the number that actually participate in the show. The animals will be on display Thursday beginning at 4 p.m., on the fairgrounds.

An exhibitor may only sell one animal in the sale. One-half of the money above market price of each animal goes back to the premium account. Each exhibitor in the inside exhibits and livestock are paid a premium on their exhibit. Any individual, business or group of individuals or businesses may purchase an animal.

For more information on the sale, contact the University of Missouri Extension Office at 573-324-5464.

New Food Pantry Program For Seniors

The Louisiana Community Food Pantry is now offering its patrons who are sixty years of age or older the opportunity to receive more food items every month. The St. Louis Area Foodbank, in partnership with the USDA and the Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services, is offering a box of food which is designed to help older adults meet their special nutritional needs. Each box will contain canned fruits and vegetables, cereal, juice, shelf-stable milk, peanut butter, rice or beans and more.

Our pantry will help those who have expressed an interest - and anyone else who is interested - fill out the necessary form beginning

Louisiana Student Puts Leadership In Practice During State Chamber Program

There's no better way to develop leadership skills than to practice, practice, practice. That is exactly what Hanna Blackmore, a student at Louisiana High School, did while recently attending the Missouri Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Leadership in Practice program.

Hanna joined more than 120 high school students who were selected as future leaders from schools across the state. Held on June 25 to 28 on the Westminster campus in Fulton, Mo., Leadership in Practice is designed to provide young Missourians

PCMH Earns ACR Accreditation

Pike County Memorial Hospital has been awarded a three-year term of accreditation in mammography as the result of a recent review by the American College of Radiology (ACR).

Mammography is a specific type of imaging test that uses a low-dose X-ray system to examine breasts. A mammography exam, called a mammogram, is used to aid in the early detection and diagnosis of breast diseases in women.

"I am proud that we can bring high quality imaging standards to the community. This has been our focus and we will continue to strive for the high standards set by

Missouri FFA Members To Sponsor Service Day On Aug. 15 This Year

Living to serve, 400 Missouri FFA members will participate in the first Missouri FFA Food Insecurity Service Day Aug. 15, 2017, at the Missouri State Fair. The service day, held in conjunction with Missouri Farmers Care's Drive to Feed Kids, will see FFA members pack 50,000 child-friendly meals. The Missouri FFA organization is coordinating the event to provide an opportunity for FFA members to visit the fair and experience the true meaning of the fourth line of the FFA Motto, "Living to serve."

"The vision of the FFA is Growing Leaders, Building Communities and Strengthening Agriculture," said Abby Bertz, state FFA president. "We are excited for this partnership as we put into action the components of our vision - members working together, developing as leaders, building a sense of community and partnering with Missouri agriculture - all while working to fight hunger right here in our home state."

The FFA Food Insecurity Service Day is part of Missouri Farmers Care's Drive to Feed Kids, a coordinated effort to combat childhood food insecurity and showcase Missouri agriculture. The Drive is raising financial support for Feeding Missouri, the network of Missouri's six regional food banks, supporting 1,500 food pantries. All money raised through the Drive will fund existing programs to deliver kid-friendly meals to hungry children across Missouri. The Drive is led by Missouri Farmers Care, Brownfield Ag News, Monsanto, Feeding Missouri, the Missouri State Fair and Missouri FFA.

"Sadly, even in the nation's agricultural heartland, hunger is a challenge," said Ashley McCarty, executive director of Missouri Farmers Care. "Missouri's rate of childhood food insecurity is among the highest in the nation. In communities throughout the state, as many as 1 in 5 people face food insecurity. Among children, the numbers are even higher. In parts of Missouri, 1 in 3 children face food insecurity on a regular basis. The Drive to Feed Kids is working to provide food to help these children thrive."

The Missouri FFA Food Insecurity Service Day, Tuesday, Aug. 15, will begin with a motivational message from past Missouri FFA State Officer Cody Jones. Afterwards, FFA members will begin packing 50,000 kid-friendly meals for the Food Bank of Central and Northeast Missouri. FFA members will also be receiving canned food donations at the Centennial Gate for Missouri Farmers Care Food Drive Tuesday. On this day, fairgoers receive discounted admission for canned food donations ($1 off per item, up to $5 savings per adult ticket) for gate admission. Missouri FFA is partnering with Missouri Farmers Care, the Missouri State Fair, and Meals of Hope on this project.

Paired with the Drive to Feed Kids is the opportunity to celebrate agriculture's productivity and contributions while responsibly producing food for our communities. In addition to the FFA Food Insecurity Service Day, key Drive events at the Missouri State Fair include a screening of "Where the Fast Lane Ends", a film showing the responsible use of agricultural science and technology. The screening will be hosted on Thursday, Aug. 10 at 3:30 p.m. in the Director's Tent. Pairs of tickets are available for a minimum donation of $25 to the Drive.

The screening will be followed by a 7:30 p.m. concert featuring Sawyer Brown with Royal Wade Kimes. Sawyer Brown lead singer, Mark Miller, wrote and produced "Where the Fast Lane Ends". Tickets to the Sawyer Brown / Royal Wade Kimes concert can be purchased through the Missouri State Fair at: <http://www.mostatefair.com/events/sawyer-brown-royal-wade-kimes/>.

Missouri FFA, Missouri Farmers Care and all Drive to Feed Kids partners invite individuals and companies to donate. All contributions will be dedicated to Feeding Missouri's member food banks engaged in addressing childhood food insecurity.

Help children who face tough situations and highlight the vital role of Missouri's farmers and ranchers in our communities. Visit <http://mofarmerscare.com/drive/> for the opportunity to give.

Missouri Farmers Care is a joint effort by Missouri's farming and agriculture community to stand together for the men and women who provide the food and jobs on which our communities depend. The Drive to Feed Kids is hosted by the Missouri Farmers Care Foundation, a 501(c)3 tax exempt public charity. The Missouri FFA Association has 26,057 members

From there a dirt road path leads hikers eastward. Within a quarter mile visitors will come to the edge of an open field on their right. At this point hikers have two options, allowing them to explore the tunnel from different perspectives by taking either or both. Paths are not marked however, so visitors are encouraged to download the area map for reference at <https://goo.gl/Y8wxRL>.

Option one is leaving the dirt road and following the path to the right, or south, along the edge of the field. This takes hikers on a 20 minute walk that meanders through open field and patches of woods. Hikers should note that the trip involves crossing Sandy Creek and will likely get their feet wet, so they should plan accordingly. But the destination is worth the walk—the bank of the creek and a commanding view of the natural tunnel from across the water. The impressive feature was sculpted from Burlington limestone when a stream branch took an underground shortcut to the creek.

ers it. Signs mark the start and end of the tunnel. The natural tunnel itself is not very apparent from this vantage point. However there is the opportunity for scenic views of the creek from this elevation, and a chance to explore the glade that forms the "roof" of the tunnel. A small path just before the first sign leads down to the tunnel itself, and brings visitors to the its opening opposite the one viewed from the creek described above. Again, visitors should back track to return to their vehicles.

The glade on top of the natural tunnel offers an open, elevated view of Sandy Creek below.

The Sandy Creek Natural Tunnel was carved from Burlington limestone by the forces of water when a stream branch took an underground shortcut to the creek.

To reach the Sandy Creek Natural Tunnel, follow MO Z west from Whiteside approximately six miles. Turn right onto MO HH, and then go north 0.1 miles. Turn right into private drive and park near the bulletin board. Visitors should keep in mind they are on private property and pay appropriate respect, which includes not blocking the drive or littering.

Agape House Hosts 64 Guests In Month Of June

Agape House, Vandalia's guest-house for visitors to the correctional centers in Bowling Green and Vandalia, hosted 64 persons, including eight children, in June.

Guests came from Arkansas, Illinois and Kansas as well as Missouri with nearly 75 percent visiting men in Bowling Green. This information was reviewed at the July 18 meeting.

In other business for the Agape House, board members conducted the quarterly inspection of the facility. It was found to be in excellent condition with the exception of minor needs. These will be addressed promptly. The monthly water bill has decreased substantially since a leaking line was repaired two months ago. A request for a team of women to do fall housecleaning will be sent to WERDCC soon.

Members in attendance were: Carlene Galloway, Janet Heim, Karen Holbrook, Sterling Holbrook, Kay Robnett, Veanna Snodgrass and Edith Westmoreland.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 15, at the house.

Monetary gifts received in June include the following: William Melton of Bonne Terre; Mt. Zion Baptist Church and Edgewood Baptist Church of Bowling Green; Ramsey Creek Baptist Church of Clarksville; Bethlehem Baptist Church of Centralia; Curryville Baptist Church and Elm Grove Baptist Church of Curryville; Farber Baptist Church and Gladys Williams of Farber; Grand Crossings Baptist Association of Fulton; Jose Cardoba of Chicago, Illinois; Nancy White of Roeland Park, Kansas; Lockwood Park Baptist Church and Friendship Baptist Church of Mexico; Mary Scheffer of Leander, Texas; Hopewell Baptist Church and John Yost of Thompson; and Southside Baptist Church, First Baptist Church, First Presbyterian Church, and First Christian Church, all of Vandalia.

Non-monetary gifts included snack items, bottled water and cleaning supplies by Santa Fe Christian Church of Paris.

COMMUNITY NEWS

From the Mayor's Desk...

How are your neighbors today? Have you spoken with them recently? Are they well, happy and safe or are they ill, sad and/or feeling threatened?

JO ANNE SMILEY, MAYOR
CITY OF CLARKSVILLE

The question is important and so is the answer. Caring for and about each other, holding and sharing good and positive thoughts can contribute to a healthier life and certainly, the betterment of your community.

When a board of alderman convenes and is faced with making decisions for the citizens of the community they have been elected to represent, very similar questions are on the table. How is each department functioning and what are the needs to be considered? The recognition of the problems can lead to negative thoughts and actions if great care is not given to each detail. The goals relative to each concern must be prioritized and measurable to be meaningful. It is a continuous and laborious process.

Working in and with municipal government continues to grow to be more and more complex. At the same time finding the right resources including funding and talented workers remains a major challenge in this present day and age.

A most encouraging development in Clarksville in recent times is the early morning gathering of persons for coffee and conversation at the Boat Club, the Monday after noon coffee time at Clarksville Methodist Church dining hall, and most recently a monthly Thursday evening special interest/service group meeting in the Christian Church Social Hall. Perhaps the conversations and considerations of these groups will contribute to seeing prior problems begin to trend in a better direction.

VAHS Card Party Planned For Aug. 19

In and absence of President Vicki Wright, Vice President Paul Ray opened the July 15 meeting of the Vandalia Historical Society by asking for donations and new discoveries.

Charlene Teague reported the following: Alan Roy donated a 1942 calendar advertising W.G. Fowler, agent for Sinclair-H.S. gasoline, a business card for Daniel-Blackburn, Vandalia, advertising Henderson's "School Shoes" and a bottle opener advertising H.E. Wilson Bottler Works, Vandalia.

Van-Far Elementary School donated yearbooks from 1996, 97 through 2016-17. These are especially appreciated as there were none in the museum.

Charlene McCune donated two snapshots of the South Elementary School and one of the teachers at that school in 1952-53. Teresa Wendel donated a copy of Stone's Tri-County 1892 Directory covering, Lewis, Adams, and Marion counties. All of these donations are much appreciated.

After regular reports were read and accepted the discussion turned to plans for Charlene's birthday/card party to be held Saturday, Aug. 19. The birthday "Meet and Greet" will be held from 4-6 p.m., and is open to the public. Supper will be serviced at 6 p.m., with card playing beginning at 7 p.m.

Tickets for supper and cards may be purchased at the museum between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., on Saturdays and or Sundays between noon-3 p.m. The deadline for buying tickets is July 31. They are also available by calling Charlene at 594-3026 or Vicki at 594-3657.

the American College of Radiology," said Rebekka Thornton, BS. RT. (R) (M) (CT) (BD) ARRT.

The reason individuals should have their imaging exam done at PCMH is the ACR gold seal of accreditation represents the highest level of image quality and patient safety.

It is awarded only to facilities meeting ACR Practice Parameters and Technical Standards after a peer-review evaluation by board-certified physicians and medical physicists who are experts in the field. Image quality, personnel qualifications, adequacy of facility equipment, quality control procedures and quality assurance programs are assessed.

The findings are reported to the ACR Committee on Accreditation, which subsequently provides the practice with a comprehensive report that can be used for continuous practice improvement.

The ACR, founded in 1924, is a professional medical society dedicated to serving patients and society by empowering radiology professionals to advance the practice, science and professions of radiological care.

Thank You

Thank you to everyone who helped us celebrate our 50th. It was a wonderful day. We are truly blessed.

Clarksville Library Celebrates 107th Birthday With Activities

The Clarksville Library recently celebrated its 107th birthday.

Board members set up a lemonade stand in the front yard under the Japanese maple tree. It was a great Saturday morning on July 1, with a birthday party of free ice cold lemonade and a variety of free, gooey cupcakes to patrons and the community. A big thank you to all who came out to celebrate! A good time was had by all who participated.

The building, erected in 1910, saw a bit of upkeep this summer with patching on the tinwork on the roof by Tayco & Co. A new door was purchased from LaCrosse Lumber in Clarksville for the basement. Volunteers continue to maintain the grounds with dreams of adding new features to the landscape in the near future which will continue to improve the beautiful area.

In June of this year Mr. and Mrs. John R. Andrews came to the Clarksville Library for a visit. John authored the book, "Clarksville - 200 Years on the Mississippi."

John grew up in Clarksville and has been an avid collector of Clarksville history all of his life. It was a natural fit when word came to him that the Bicentennial committee was contemplating a history book for Clarksville. The Library is proud to include John in the growing group of the Clarksville Author Series.

"Fiddling Down Memory Lane with Mary Jane and Patty" is on the calendar for July 29, starting at 2 p.m. It features local musicians, Mary Jane Owens and Patty Chandler. Special areas will be set up during this Saturday's event for enjoying the fiddle & guitar music, and for sharing old photos and memorabilia.

At 1 p.m. Debra Smith and other board members will be setting up tables for viewing old albums of Clarksville. Bring your memories and your photos to share and make new memories in the process.

Gene Baumann, who wrote a section in "Kerosene Lamps and Grandma's Washboard," Memories of growing up in Northeast Missouri will be on hand at the "Fiddling' down Memory Lane with Mary Jane & Patty" event to share memories.

Clarksville Library looks forward to Applefest this year, October 14 with a new Clarksville author, Dawn Warren. She will be on hand at 2 p.m. to share her recent published work. The Library is so proud of writers from our area.

MDC Seeking Public Comments On Regulations

In accordance with Gov. Eric Greitens' executive order issued in January (sos.mo.gov/library/reference/orders/2017/co3), the Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) is undergoing a thorough review of and seeking public comment on all regulations of the Wildlife Code of Missouri under the Missouri Code of State Regulations.

Individuals can comment on MDC regulations online at mdc.mo.gov under EXISTING REGULATIONS (short.mdc.mo.gov/Zia).

"Citizen involvement and participation have always been important to the Missouri Department of Conservation," said MDC Director Sara Parker Pauley. "We value public input and want to hear from you."

MDC will also hold the following open houses from 6 - 8 p.m. to gather public feedback:

- Aug. 8 at Cape Girardeau Conservation Nature Center, 2289 County Park Drive in Cape Girardeau;
- Aug. 10 at Runge Conservation Nature Center, 330 Commerce Drive in Jefferson City;
- Aug. 14 at the MDC Northeast Regional Office, 3500 S. Baltimore in Kirksville;
- Sept. 7 at Powder Valley Conservation Nature Center, 11715 Cragwood Road in K in St. Joseph;
- Oct. 10 at Springfield Conservation Nature Center, 4601 S. Nature Center Way in Springfield;
- Oct. 12, at Twin Pines Conservation Education Center, 20086 Highway 60 in Winona; and
- Oct. 26 at Anita B. Gorman Conservation Discovery Center, 4750 Troost Ave in Kansas City.

'Come Home' To Missouri State Fair For Ag Events

LET'S TALK LIVESTOCK
The Missouri State Fair is the premier showcase for Missouri agriculture. Featuring the best of the best in livestock shows, competitive exhibits, agriculture innovation and more, the State Fair is definitely the place to be in August for agriculture!

Two of the Fair's events, Let's Talk Livestock and Barnyard Story Time, offer a chance for fairgoers to learn about agriculture from the folks that live it each day.

Let's Talk Livestock, sponsored by Tractor Supply Co., will return to the Fair for its third year. This award-winning program brings 4-H and FFA exhibitors out of the barn to share their livestock project with fairgoers. Exhibitors will present a short program and demonstration on caring and showing their livestock projects. Fairgoers will get to ask questions and be up close with the livestock.

Barnyard Story Time has moved to the front of the Children's Barnyard, giving kids the opportunity to interact with different farm animals after hearing an agriculture-related story. 4-H and FFA members have brought along their favorite books to share with young fairgoers.

These events will be offered to the public free of charge and will be happening at various locations Aug. 10-20. Complete schedules will be available during the Fair at the information booths as well as in the daily schedule of events.

Pike County Youth Fair Sale Has New Date For This Year

The Pike County Youth Fair Sale will take place this year on Thursday, July 27. The sale will be held in the livestock barn at 5:30 p.m.

There is a potential of selling four steers. The top six lambs and poultry meat pens of which three will be home raised potentially will be sold. The top six hams and bacon will be sold. The top eight barrows of which four will be home raised will potentially be sold. The number of animals sold will depend on the number that actually participate in the show. The animals will be on display

Thursday beginning at 4 p.m., on the fairgrounds.

An exhibitor may only sell one animal in the sale. One-half of the money above market price of each animal goes back to the premium account. Each exhibitor in the inside exhibits and livestock are paid a premium on their exhibit. Any individual, business or group of individuals or businesses may purchase an animal.

For more information on the sale, contact the University of Missouri Extension Office at 573-324-5464.

There's no better way to develop leadership skills than to practice, practice, practice. That is exactly what Hanna Blackmore, a student at Louisiana High School, did while recently attending the Missouri Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Leadership in Practice program.

Hanna joined more than 120 high school students who were selected as future leaders from schools across the state. Held on June 25 to 28 on the Westminster campus in Fulton, Mo., Leadership in Practice is designed to provide young Missourians with the opportunity to learn what it takes to be an effective leader in their schools and communities.

All participants were students between their freshman and sophomore years in high school.

With help from Missouri business leaders, civic leaders and educators, the students learned firsthand about how to successfully work together as a team and individually as a leader.

"They were immersed in leadership activities that simulated real-life situations," said Dan Mehan, Missouri Chamber President and CEO. "Working in diverse, collaborative groups, these student leaders gain key insights into how to effectively lead in challenging situations."

Working in small groups, the students developed business plans for a new product or service during the Entrepreneurship Challenge. During a Model UN simulation, students engaged in debate on nuclear weapons. Participants were also encouraged to set goals to further develop their leadership skills and were challenged to go back to their schools and communities to play more active roles leading their peers.

The Missouri Chamber of Commerce and Industry applauds the efforts of these future leaders and the potential that they bring to our state. Leadership in Practice is part of a youth leadership educational program that was created by the Missouri Chamber of Commerce in 1962. It is funded through scholarships provided by state businesses and civic organizations. This year's program was co-hosted by the Jenny and Warren Erdman Foundation, the KC Southern Foundation, and sponsored by Edward Jones Investments and The Doe Run Company.

The Missouri Chamber of Commerce and Industry is the largest business association in Missouri. Together, with the Missouri Chamber Federation, the Missouri Chamber represents more than 75,000 employers. To learn more, go to www.mo-chamber.com, or follow us @MissouriChamber on Twitter.
