Everyone Invited To Louisiana For Winter Wonderland On Friday

The annual Winter Wonderland celebration is being planned this year for Friday, Nov. 23 - the day after Thanksgiving in downtown Louisiana with the theme of "An Old-Fashioned Christmas."

Cindy Blaylock and Kathy Smith have been organizing the event this year.

"I'm excited so many have stepped up to help keep this celebration alive, organizer Cindy Blaylock noted. "It has just become a real community event. I want to personally thank so many for becoming involved."

Blaylock and Smith put out the call for help. Several people stepped up.

"Linda Shade gathered up some carolers who will be dressed in 'period attire' and will stroll through downtown singing some of our old favorites. Joanna Brock has gathered the bell choir and will have them at 4th and Georgia beginning at 5:30. Several ladies came to the call and have offered to get some decorations up downtown. Laura Martin gathered a group of her co-workers to help decorate the new community tree that was donated by Peace Tree Farms and planted in the park at 4th and Georgia. Our Girl Scouts decorated the interior of Santa's House. Lori Brown called and has gathered volunteers to serve hot chocolate and cookies. The Trimble House folks are filling goodie bags for the kids," Blaylock reported.

It is Blaylock's hope that businesses and property owners will decorate their windows and exteriors in some fashion.

... PIKE COUNTY BICENTENNIAL ...

Passionate Politician Breathes Fire During Visit

Editor's note: Pike County celebrates its bicentennial in 2018. Following is the 11th in a series of monthly articles by Louisiana historian Brent Engel that will examine 200 years of local history.

When a future President from the other political party writes a biography of you, there can be little doubt about your far-reaching impact on America.

Such was the case of Thomas Hart Benton, a legendary political force who was loved, hated, challenged and appeased for more than three decades.

In 1846, the man who had the distinction of serving as one of Missouri's first U.S. Senators made a speech at the Pike County Courthouse in Bowling Green, and got in return a little of the verbal scorn he was so good at handing out.

By then, Benton had served in Washington for 25 years, leading efforts for territorial expansion in the West, authoring laws encouraging new settlements, supporting construction of a continental railway, advocating greater use of technology, backing the relocation of Native Americans and going joining in the battle over slavery.

The legislative warrior for Democrat Presidents Andrew Jackson and Martin Van Buren had earlier shown his anger, wounding Jackson during a brawl and even killing another man during a duel.

The 1906 recollection of Benton's Pike County visit was told by retired Missouri Supreme Court Justice Thomas James Clark Fagg of Louisiana, and was published in the first issue of the "Historical Review."

Fagg, who arrived in Pike County from Virginia with his parents in 1836 and became an attorney in 1845, cautions at the outset that he had not been "prompted either by any personal predilections or partisan feeling" in his story.

Phillip Lagemann Named 2018 South Central Male Athlete Of The Year

University of Saint Mary men's cross country runner Phillip Lagemann of Bowling Green earned national recognition from the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA), which was announced on Monday, Nov. 12.

Lagemann was named the South Central Region Male Athlete of the Year, while Benton was named the South Central Region's Men's Coach of the Year.

He is coming off an individual title at the 2018 KCAC Championships, as he ran a program best 24:47.3. His placement also helped the Spires win their sixth straight conference championship. He also won three other individual titles this season - the BearcatOpen, Muthama-Rogers Invitational and NAIA Seminole Valley Stampede events.

LHS Freshman Class Learns About Bridge Construction

MoDOT and Massman are doing a two-part series on examining and explaining bridge construction to Louisiana's freshman physical science classes.

As part of this series, the Louisiana High School physical science classes took a field trip Thursday, Nov. 8 to visit the new Champ Clark Bridge work site.

Students rode on a barge on the Mississippi River to see the construction of the bridge from below. Find more photos on page 8.

Pike County 4-H Holds Recognition Celebration

Pike County 4-H Recognition Ceremony is an event to recognize the outstanding accomplishments of the 4-H members and volunteers during this past year.

"Recognition Celebration is our opportunity to let the volunteers in our program know how vital they are to the success of our program. It also highlights the many talents our youth have to offer," commented Patty Fisher, 4-H Youth Specialist. Allison Hunter served as the Mistress of Ceremonies for the afternoon.

Outstanding Member Awards were selected on his or her accomplishments, projects taken, leadership involvement, favorite 4-H activity, least favorite 4-H activity and other activities a member is involved in. The winners were: Outstanding First Year Girl, Bristol Doggett; Outstanding 13 & Under Boy, Lucas Martin; Outstanding 13 & Under Girl, Faith Brown and Outstanding 14 & Over Boy, Clint Bailey.

The Friend of 4-H Award is presented to individuals, businesses, or organizations who have given an extra effort to help the county 4-H program. This year's recipient was David Gordy.

The Outstanding Project Leader is a person nominated by their project members for making an extra effort. The winner was Darryl Haas.

Discs were presented to volunteer leaders who had volunteered for five, ten, and fifteen years. Receiving five year discs were: Alaina Lawrence, Beth Shannon and Craig Miller. Receiving 10 year discs were Brenda Akers, Tina Lee and Kathy Troutman. Jean Ledford was presented her 15 year disc. Receiving 20 year discs were Mike Klott and Angela Maier.

First year and second year volunteer leaders were recognized and presented their plates. First year leaders were: Corey Biggs, Melony Cassidy Grote, Darron Early, and Timothy Harrelson. Second year volunteers recognized were: Carmen Niemeyer, Jennifer Chandler, Brian Kraft and Michele Meyer.

We recognized a Century 4-H Family, which is a family that has accumulated over 100 years of membership to the 4-H Program. The Shane and DeeDee Martin family was recognized as this honor.

Ruben Edwards Honored For 90th Birthday

Long-time Hampshire hog breeder, Ruben Edwards of Middletown celebrated his 90th birthday at the Hwy. 54 Banquet Center on Saturday, Nov. 10 with family, friends, and swine breeders from 10 states attending.

A pork loin dinner was served and the day was spent visiting and relating stories about Ruben and his family.

Edwards, a graduate of Bowling Green High School, began raising Hampshire hogs under the supervision of agriculture instructor, T.C.

Wells, who was a long-time mentor of Edwards. He still has many memories of those days which he continues to share with family and friends. Edwards served as Bowling Green FFA chapter president in 1946-47 and went on to be president of the State of Missouri FFA.

Edwards continued his education of the University of Missouri where he was a member of the college livestock judging team and the college meatjudging team. It was at the university that he met his future wife, Irene John. They are the parents of five children: Pat Hardesty and husband, Russ, Linda Young and husband, Gary, John Edwards and wife, Jane, Teresa Hill and husband, Paul, and Jim Edwards and wife, Phyllis. All the children played an important role on the farm during their growing up years. He was active showing pigs at major swine shows and was a well-known livestock judge at local and national swine shows. He served on the Hampshire Swine Registry board of directors and served as president in 1968.

MDC Thanks Hunters For Help With CWD Sampling

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) thanks the thousands of deer hunters who participated in its mandatory CWD sampling efforts last weekend in 31 counties. Thanks to hunter participation, MDC collected more than 20,000 tissue samples last weekend from harvested deer for CWD testing.

According to MDC, mandatory sampling dramatically increases the number of tissue samples the Conservation Department can collect in a brief period of time. The increased number of samples gives MDC scientists a much better understanding of the distribution and prevalence of the disease -- where it is and how many deer may have it. It can also help find new cases in new areas.

MDC adds that opening weekend of the firearms deer season is the most popular two hunting days for most deer hunters. Hunters take about a third of our state's total annual deer harvest during those two days. Focusing on this key weekend gives MDC the best opportunity to collect the most tissue samples during a very concentrated time period.

MDC has also collected nearly 800 tissue samples for CWD testing over the past several months through its ongoing statewide voluntary CWD sampling efforts and from road-killed and sick deer.

MDC sends test samples to an independent laboratory for testing and will report test results as they become available. Stay up to date on test results received by MDC at mdc.mo.gov/cwd under CWD in Missouri.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), there have been no documented cases of CWD in humans, but it is important to prevent human exposure to CWD. As a safeguard, the CDC recommends hunters strongly consider having their harvested deer tested for CWD before eating the meat if the animal was harvested from an area where CWD has been found. The CDC also recommends not consuming an animal that tests positive for the disease. Learn more at mdc.mo.gov/cwd under Human Health Risks.

MDC continues voluntary CWD sampling statewide all season.

Hunters who harvest deer anywhere in Missouri throughout the entire deer hunting season -- Sept. 15 through Jan. 15, 2019 -- can have their harvested deer sampled for free CWD testing at select MDC offices around the state and through participating taxidermists and meat processors located in the CWD Management Zone. Sampling is voluntary.

MDC asks hunters to field dress and Telecheck deer before taking them for sampling. Hunters can bring the entire field-dressed deer, or just the head with about six inches of neck in place. Heads that have the cape removed for taxidermy can be sampled.

Find voluntary sampling locations and more information at mdc.mo.gov/cwd under Voluntary CWD Sampling All Season.

Get free test results. Hunters can get free test results for their deer from both mandatory and voluntary CWD sampling online at mdc.mo.gov/CWDTestResults. Due to the volume of test samples submitted, test results will take up to four weeks from the time of submission.

Ecumenical Women's Breakfast Group Holds Last Meeting Of This Year

The Ecumenical Women's Breakfast group met at the First Presbyterian Church in Louisiana for their last meeting of 2018.

The ladies of Calvary Episcopal Church served as co-hostesses for the breakfast, where there were 15 in attendance representing five churches.

Marilyn Johnson introduced the guest speaker, Judy King of Bowling Green. Judy spent time in France this past summer working with a mission team through an organization called BLF, Bible Literature in French. Very few publishers print literature in French and there is nothing printed for Sunday School. BLF finds books that would be helpful for people and their faith, translates and prints them. Judy helped with this project and also worked on a building with the missionary construction team she went to France with.

Judy's second summer missionary experience took her to a Retirement Village in Minneola, Fla., through an organization called AIM, Africa Inland Mission. AIM's Retirement Center provides affordable retirement housing for AIM's retired missionaries. After her mission work in Florida, and Judy returned home, God spoke to her and laid on her heart to return to the Retirement Village as a Caregiver. Judy encourages everyone to "listen to God's call in your life."

During the business meeting it was decided to donate proceeds from the breakfast to the local Food Pantry. A reminder of the Community of Faith Thanksgiving meal will be held on Thursday, November 22 at Centenary United Methodist Church at noon and is free to the community.

The next meeting will take place on Tuesday, March 12, 2019 at Centenary United Methodist Church with the ladies of Calumet Presbyterian serving as co-hostesses. The group is open to all women of faith. They gather four times a year for breakfast, fellowship, and interesting programs.

Employer Partnership With The Eastern Missouri YMCA

Employees are a company's most valuable asset.

Evidence suggests that investing in the well-being of your workforce will yield powerful results. Better employee health leads to better work performance and a sense of well-being. Positive attitudes improve company-wide morale.

Employee wellness results in lower turnover rates and absenteeism. And a healthier workforce should reduce overall healthcare costs.

Employers, as you begin to review your benefit programs for the upcoming year, take the first step toward a healthier workplace when you partner with the Eastern Missouri Family YMCA to offer a membership as part of your employee benefit package. Employer based memberships can be customized to meet your company budget and needs.

The YMCA is anticipated to open in early 2019, which is great timing for employees to start the year off focusing on their health and well-ness. Together, we as a community can work to promote health and wellness in the workplace and make positive changes for a healthy environment.

For more information, please email dhopek@emoymca.org, send a message through the Eastern Missouri YMCA in Vandalia Facebook page, YMCA Project, or call 573-473-8503.

Keeping An Eye On Progress

The new Champ Clark Bridge in Louisiana is past the halfway point to completion. Changes to the bridge are visible every day. All of the piers have been set and the steel girders are being put in place before the bridge's concrete deck is installed. The People's Tribune is including a photo every week as work continues until completion as a scrapbook to one of the biggest projects the area has seen. When finished the bridge will be more than twice the width it is now at 44-feet wide and will have a price tag of just over $60 million.

Bruce Ayers Rodhouse

Bruce Ayers Rodhouse, 81, of Clarksville died Sunday, Nov. 11, 2018 at Hannibal Regional Hospital.

Funeral service were at 10 a.m., Thursday at Collier Funeral Home in Louisiana. Burial followed in Wells Cemetery near Pleasant Hill, Ill.

Visitation was Wednesday from 4-7 p.m., at the funeral home.

Bruce was born on the family farm near Pleasant Hill, Ill., to Louis and Beatrice Ayers Rodhouse on Feb. 5, 1937. He was united in marriage to Alice Roberts of Clarksville on July 25, 1957. Their marriage was graced with three children.

Bruce was a life long Methodist and willingly served his church in many capacities. He was a member of Centenary United Methodist Church, Louisiana. When his children were young, he was a cub scout leader, 4-H leader and an active FFA parent. He had been a Calumet United Fund board member, an officer of the Calumet Rural Fire Department and a board member of Clarksville Special Road District #2. He also served on the county FFA committee. Farming was his passion, and he often said he wanted to leave the land in better condition than he found it.

He is survived by his wife of 61 years; his children, David Wayne Rodhouse and wife, Ingrid of Clarksville, Steven Louis Rodhouse and wife, Debbie of Parkville, and Lisa Stein and husband, David of Defiance; and four grandchildren, Grace Critser and husband, Charles Jr. of Lincoln, Neb., John Rodhouse of Rolla, Kathryn Rodhouse of Albuquerque, N.M., and Lindsey Rodhouse of Fayetteville, Ark. Also surviving are two brothers, Fred and Jerry of Pleasant Hill, Ill., and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, a sister, Bonnie Sitton, a brother, Donald (Joe) and two brothers-in-law, Jerry and Jack Roberts.

Memorials are suggested to Centenary United Methodist Church or the Arthritis Foundation c/o Collier Funeral Home.

Mary Juanita Calhoun

Funeral services for Mary Juanita Calhoun, 87, of Hannibal was held at 2 p.m., Monday at Collier Funeral Home in Louisiana. The Rev. Ruth Ann Jones officiated. Burial was at Riverview Cemetery in Louisiana.

Visitation was from 1 p.m., until time of service Monday at the funeral home.

Mrs. Calhoun died Wednesday, Nov. 14, 2018 at Beth Haven Nursing Home in Hannibal.

She was born July 20, 1931 in Guilford to William Henry and Mary Elizabeth Breit Throckmorton. She was married to Hurley Eugen Calhoun and he preceded her in death on July 21, 1983.

She is survived by a daughter, Nellie Cummins and husband, Bill of Hannibal; two step-daughters, Karen Glascock and husband, Kenny of Hannibal, and Lois Roan of Louisiana; a step-son, John Calhoun and wife, Donna of Hannibal; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and cousins, Katherine Kirby, Vernon Kling, and Shirley Davis.

Mary had been employed at the Methodist Medical Center in Peoria, Ill. She later had lived in Hull, Ill., for a number of years until moving to the Beth Haven Home in Hannibal.

She was a member of the Westside Christian Church in Hannibal. She enjoyed country music, watching old western movies, and going to Kentucky Fried Chicken for a tenderloin, her favorite.

Memorials may be given to the donor's choice, c/o the funeral home.

VFW Auxiliary 2173 Sends Donations To MO Veteran's Home

The Auxiliary to VFW Post 2173 met on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 210 S. Main, Vandalia.

President Victoria Shaw called the 7 p.m., meeting to order. Opening ceremonies were observed.

The October minutes were approved as corrected. The treasurer's report was filed for audit.

The Department of Missouri President's Message for November was read. Correspondence was read from the VFW National Home and from the Susanna Randolph Chapter, DAR, concerning a Lincoln School flagpole dedication on Saturday, Nov. 10.

During the business meeting donations were made to the Missouri Veterans' Home in Mexico, Toys for Tots, local Salvation Army, Vandalia Area Ministerial Alliance, and the VFW National Home.

The eight members attending were J.C. Davis, Donna DeTienne, Val Galloway, Judy Hull, Lionel Shaw, Norma Shaw, Victoria Shaw, and Ann Wasson. Lionel & Victoria Shaw furnished refreshments after the meeting.

The next auxiliary meeting is Thursday, Dec. 13, 2018. All members are encouraged to attend each meeting.

CHAPTER CO-REPORTER

The Silex FFA Chapter had a great outcome at the "Kick-Off the School Year" volleyball game and meeting.

The FFA members were also allowed the opportunity to pick up trash off of our adopted highway. The officers were very impressed with the participation of the members this year. The advisor, Mr. O'Brien and the new officer team were introduced to all of the new members that attended this year.

Everyone got involved during volleyball game. Silex FFA showed their leadership abilities on the field by encouraging their teammates and showing off their volleyball skills.

The chapter has many new faces this year. The officers are very excited to get started this year and show the new FFA members all the skills that you can learn from FFA. Silex FFA Chapter cannot wait to participate in speeches, contests, and even help out the community this year.

The FFA is a national youth organization with over 600,000 members nationwide. The FFA makes a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agricultural education.

From The Mayor's Desk...

Even in this busiest of seasons, helping hands and offers of assistance abound. This week-end the Park committee members and other volunteers were on the streets of downtown changing out fall décor for the winter season decorations.

The Chamber of Commerce was involved in preparations for the Winter Market to be held in the corner building of Howard and Front Street. Inside city hall Santa Land is beginning to take shape with gratitude to helpers who come to provide special assistance. Dec. 1 is the deadline for the arrival of Santa & the opening of Santa Land, Open House at the Antique Center, and the Winter Market opening.

The snows were beautiful, just a bit more than expected and somewhat earlier than in previous years.

JO ANNE SMILEY, MAYOR
CITY OF CLARKVILLE

The temperatures have not been in the sub-zero area yet but can be expected, so planning ahead for that is important. Broken water lines continue to present complications and require time to find and to repair specifically in the difficult winter weather days.

As Thanksgiving is celebrated, Clarksville has much for which to be thankful. The city survived another flood experience, has several persons searching intently for solutions to fewer businesses in town, and welcomed the conclusion of bridge rebuilds on #79 after five years of summer closures. Looking forward, the Eagles will arrive and bring their delight to Clarksville and to the large number of visitors who will come to celebrate their presence.

May your blessings be bountiful,

MO State Parks Encourages People To #OptOutside Black Friday

Missouri State Parks has joined REI, the nation's largest consumer co-op and specialty outdoor retailer, and its effort to offer the outdoors as a healthy, carefree, natural alternative to the massive Black Friday crowds of holiday shoppers.

Come to one of the many state historic sites and parks Friday, Nov. 23, and catch a free tour at a historic site.

But that's not all - anyone who camps at one of our park or state historic site campgrounds on Black Friday will receive a coupon for a free night of camping for a future stay. The coupon will be issued to the campsite's primary occupant and is good for one year.

"What better way to burn off the turkey, stuffing and pumpkin pie than to go to a Missouri state park or historic site," says Ben Ellis, Director of the Department of Natural Resources' Division of State Parks. "I want to encourage everyone to get outside, hike, camp and explore our historic sites. Make lasting memories this Black Friday."

For more information about Missouri State Parks' #OptOutside event and a full listing of state historic sites offering free tours, please go to mostateparks.com.

Students Of The Month At Louisiana M.S.

Louisiana Middle School students of the month include:

Sixth grade, Katie Wallace - Katie exemplifies outstanding character both in and out of the classroom. She is prepared for classroom activities and is always working to her potential. Katie demonstrates respect to the student body, staff and to the faculty at our school. Thank you, Katie, for being a positive role model for your peers and always displaying a pleasant disposition!

Seventh grade, Alex Dzierwa - Alex was chosen for this award because of his positive attitude and character. Alex comes to class prepared and always brings a smile. He finds ways to stay engaged by having a book to read with him. He also shares a kind word or gesture with his classmates. Alex is respectful to other students, the staff, and the faculty at LMS. Thanks, Alex, for your attitude and for being a continuous delight in our school. Your positive role here at LMS is an inspiration to your peers and your instructors!

Eighth grade, Kevin Lentz - Kevin is hardworking, positive, creative, and kind. Kevin always comes to class prepared and eager to learn. He is helpful to those around him when they need help, and works great both independently and in a group. Kevin puts a great amount of effort into his work, which his teachers appreciate!

Join MDC Wild Webcast Dec. 4

Join the Missouri Department of Conservation's (MDC) Wild Webcast on Bald Eagles and Eagle Days Tuesday, Dec. 4, from noon-1 p.m., to learn about bald eagles in Missouri and MDC's free Eagle Days events and other eagle-viewing opportunities around the state. MDC Resource Scientist Janet Haslerig and MDC Eagle Days Veteran Dan Zarlinga will share their expertise about bald eagles in Missouri and the perennially popular MDC Eagle Days events around the state.

Register for the free MDC Wild Webcast on Bald Eagles and Eagle Days at short.mdc.mo.gov/ZT7

Because of the state's big rivers, many lakes, and abundant wetlands, Missouri is one of the leading lower 48 states for wintering bald eagle viewing. Each fall, thousands of these great birds migrate south from their nesting range in Canada and the Great Lakes states to hunt in the Show-Me State. Eagles take up residence wherever they find open water and plentiful food. More than 2,000 bald eagles are typically reported in Missouri during winter.

From December-February, Missouri's winter eagle watching is spectacular. MDC offers Eagle Days events around the state and encourages people to enjoy eagle viewing on their own. For more information on Eagle Days, visit nature.mdc.mo.gov/eagle-days-5

23rd Annual Community Of Faith Thanksgiving Day Dinner To Be Held At United Methodist Church

The 23rd Annual Community of Faith Thanksgiving Day Dinner will be held Thursday, Nov. 22, at Centenary United Methodist Church in Louisiana.

This meal is prepared by many different area churches and sponsored by several area organizations, and is available free of charge to anyone desiring a meal on Thanksgiving Day.

Meals will be delivered in Louisiana and Clarksville. In order to have a meal delivered to your home, you must call the Methodist Church at 573-754-4412 and give the number of meals needed, the names of the persons receiving the meal(s), address for delivery, and phone number where you can be contacted on Thanksgiving Day if there are questions.

Carryout meals will also be available starting noon-2 p.m., and people can also come to the church and eat. Again, advanced reservations are requested by calling the church at 754-4412, but walk-ins are always welcome. The church is located at 7th and South Carolina Streets, Louisiana.

Come and enjoy the fun and fellowship of a traditional Thanksgiving Day meal with the area churches in this year's Community of Faith Thanksgiving Day Dinner.

For more information, please contact the Rev. Moore at 754-4412 or Ann Narramore at 754-6373.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Representatives of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Massman Construction offered information on construction of the new Champ Clark Bridge to the Louisiana freshman physical science classes.

Students in the Louisiana physical science classes rode a barge to check out development of the new Champ Clark Bridge.

The new Champ Clark Bridge will be more than twice the size of the existing bridge which was constructed almost 100 years ago.

LHS Freshman Class Gets Close Look At Bridge Construction

EDWARDS

For many years, two production sales were held at the farm, selling breeding stock across the United States, as well as Mexico and Japan.

Ruben's wife, "Miss Irene", as she was affectionately known, played an important role in all aspects of the farm. For many years, Ruben and "Miss Irene" hosted boys from various parts of the country who wanted to learn about Hampshire hogs. They lived with them and worked on the farm. Many of those young men went on to be Hampshire breeders or entered commercial hog production.

"Miss Irene" was an excellent homemaker and an awesome cook. Everyone who visited the farm felt fortunate to sit at her table. She died in 2013 and continues to be missed by all who knew her.

The family grain and livestock farm, known as Hamp-An Farms, is still in operation today. However, with the declining hog prices, the hogs are no longer a part of the farm. Ruben has devoted the last several years in building his Angus cattle herd. At his present age of 90, he still is out every day caring for his cows.

The positive attitude and encouragement of Ruben and "Miss Irene" continues to leave a mark on the lives of those fortunate enough to know them.

Friends and family of Ruben Edwards gathered to celebrate his 90th birthday at the Hwy. 54 Banquet Center on Nov. 10.

The men's cross country team competed in their sixth all-time National Championship appearance in Cedar Rapids, Iowa on Friday, Nov. 16.

Lagemann placed fourth at the NAA National Championships Friday morning and his University of Saint Mary men's cross country team turned in a record performance to place fifth overall with 218 total points.

Lagemann's fourth place finish earned him All-American status for the second straight season and seventh in track and cross country during his collegiate career.

His time of 24:32 also broke his previous record of 24:57 for the best time in school history.

Phillip also earned national recognition from the U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA), as he was named the South Central Re-

University Of Missouri Scholars Share Advice For A Happy, Healthy Holiday Season

Prepping for the holidays often comes with thoughts of potential issues that can pop up during the season, such as family challenges, financial worries and health concerns. The University of Missouri offers the following experts as you work on stories addressing these common holiday season conundrums.

For interviews with these or other Mizzou experts, please contact Cailin Riley at (573) 882-4870 or rileyci@missouri.edu.

Saving Money: Rui Yao, associate professor of personal financial planning, studies retirement preparation and saving behavior. In a recent study, she found that nearly two-thirds of working millennials do not have retirement accounts. She can address the importance of saving, even during the holidays.

Staying Active: With the holidays right around the corner, families are planning meals and trips to spend time with loved ones. With the food and travel, it is easy for exercise schedules to become disrupted.

Steve Ball, professor of nutrition and exercise physiology at the University of Missouri, says that to prevent holiday weight gain, people need to focus on consistency and set realistic goals for exercise.

Seth Sherman, an orthopaedic surgeon and sports medicine physician at MU Health Care, can provide tips for exercising in cold weather and staying active while traveling during the holidays.

Food and Diet: Sherly Cherian, a registered dietitian with MU Health Care, can provide tips for planning healthful, delicious holiday meals and maintaining a balanced diet even during the busiest time of year.

Staying Healthy: Tara Flynn, a physician with Mizzou Urgent Care, can share tips for limiting the spread of infectious diseases such as cold, flu, strep throat and food-borne illnesses.

Christopher Sampson, an emergency physician with MU Health Care, can discuss preventative measures against holiday injuries such as falls, frost burn, accidents with new toys and more.

Kara Braudis, a dermatologist with MU Health Care, can provide tips for treating and preventing dry skin during the cold months.

Politics at the Dinner Table: Many families gathering around the table during the holidays struggle to keep differences in political views from disrupting family time. Andrea Benjamin, assistant professor of political science, says that it's important for people to set boundaries with family and friends depending on how comfortable they are discussing politics.

How To Cook A Thanksgiving Turkey

(RECIPES NOT KITCHEN-TESTED)

BY MRS. PICONE'S
KINDERGARTEN STUDENTS

1. Keatin Blankenship - Get a turkey from the pet store. Before you cook it you need to cut all the feather's off the neck and the head needs cut off too. Cook the turkey at 11 degrees for 1 day. The turkey is done when it is brown like a corn-dog brown. You can eat mac and cheese, French fries, and noodles with the turkey. For dessert you can eat cupcakes! They are good.

2. Ava Branstetter - Get a turkey from Dollar General. Before you cook it you need to cut its legs, and arms off. Next, put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at "hot" degrees for 10 mins. The turkey is done when Mom and Dad tell you that it's ready. You can eat bananas, green beans, and broccoli with the turkey. For dessert you can eat chocolate ice-cream!

3. Trayvon Chatman - Get a turkey at Walmart. Before you cook it you need to cut the turkey's head and get ready to put it in the microwave. Cook the turkey at 60 degrees for 70 mins. The turkey is done when it looks black and white inside. You can eat pizza, hamburgers, and French fries with the turkey. For dessert you can eat blue cupcakes.

4. Esbeydi Delgado - Get a turkey at County Market. Before you cook it you need to cut the turkey on his belly, and wash the turkey. Put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at 6 degrees for 7 mins. The turkey is done when it looks brown. You can eat grapes, bread, and pears with the turkey. For dessert you can eat cookies.

5. Jordan Easter - Get a turkey at Walmart. Before you cook it you need to take it out of the bag, and put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at 10 degrees for 20 mins. The turkey is done when it looks like chicken. It will have bones inside, and beef on top with some chicken. You can eat corn, macaroni, and carrots with the turkey. For dessert you can eat rainbow cake.

6. Drea Griffith - Get a turkey from a turkey farm. Get a big brown and purple turkey. Before you cook it you need to cut its face off, and put it in a big pan to get ready to cook it in the oven. Cook the turkey at "hot" degrees for 3 mins. The turkey is done when it looks like a turkey, purple color, and smells good! You can eat macaroni, pizza, and French fries with the turkey. For dessert you can eat bacon!

7. Lilly Fierro - Get a turkey at the Turkey Shop. Before you cook it you need to pull off the pink stuff, and put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at 1 degree for 10 hours. The turkey is done when it looks brown, and Mommy tries it. You can eat with a fork and knife with the turkey. For dessert you can eat chicken!

8. Joseph Harrison - Get a turkey from County Market. It's in the Thanksgiving aisle. Before you cook it you need to put it in some water, cut it with a knife to get bones out, and put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at "just right" degrees for 6 mins. The turkey is done when it smells like chicken, and if you still see bones you put them in the trash. You can eat eggs, chicken nuggets, and some carrots with the turkey. For dessert you can eat chocolate chip ice-cream.

9. Jayce Johnson - Get a turkey in the woods by some trees. The turkey likes to blend in by the trees. Before you cook it you need to cut it in strips, and cut the skin off. Next, you have to cook it. Cook the turkey at 80 degrees for an hour. The turkey is done when it looks brown with bones sticking out at the back. You can eat macaroni, potatoes, and green beans with the turkey. For dessert you can eat a strawberry shake.

10. Steven Leeson - Get a turkey from the Walmart store. Before you cook it you need to wash it in the kitchen sink, and toast it. Cook the turkey at 98 degrees for 10 seconds. The turkey is done when it's hot, and toasted. You can eat vegetables, gravy, and grapes with the turkey. For dessert you can eat jello.

11. Mia Martinez - Get a turkey at Walmart. Before you cook it you need to use a chicken mix ingredient on the turkey. Cook the turkey at 3 degrees for 25 hours. The turkey is done when it is burned. It will look a little brown, and taste like chicken. You can eat strawberries, macaroni, and pizza with the turkey. For dessert you can eat cereal.

12. Avery McKinnon - Get a turkey at the Bowling Green Turkey Store. It has alive and dead turkey's there. Before you cook it you need to clean the guts out of it. Get a big spoon, or scoop so you don't get guts on you. Put it on a pan. Cook the turkey at "hot" degrees for 10 mins. The turkey is done when the alarm goes off on the microwave, and the turkey looks dead. You can eat corn, peas, and green beans with the turkey. For dessert you can eat cake, cookies, and ice-cream.

13. Amanda Morganti - Get a turkey at a Thanksgiving Store. The store is in a city somewhere. Before you cook it you need to stuff some stuffing inside the turkey, and then put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at 90 degrees for 90 mins. The turkey is done when all the bones fall out of the body. But, sometimes you might see a bone. Just throw the bone away. Don't eat it! You can eat corn, broccoli, and gravy with the turkey. For dessert you can eat watermelon, and jello!

14. Ronald Quinlin - Get a turkey in the woods, because that's what my Grandpa does. Before you cook it you need to take all the feathers off. Next, you need to cook it. Cook the turkey at 30 degrees for 40 mins. The turkey is done when it looks burned. It will be black, and smell good. You can eat mashed potatoes, devil eggs, and mac and cheese with the turkey. For dessert you can eat cookies!

15. Anabela Silva - Get a turkey from the Walmart Store. Before you cook it you need to cut the meat off the turkey, and cook it on a pan in the oven. Cook the turkey at 2 degrees for 1 min. The turkey is done when the stove beeps. It will look like chicken. You can eat vegetables, beans, and macaroni with the turkey. For dessert you can eat ice-cream.

16. Khloe Smith - Get a turkey at the Market. It has turkey, and d ham there. Before you cook it you need to put a little salt, and pepper on it. You need to put in the fridge for 2 hours, and then you cook it. Cook the turkey at 40 degrees for 60 days. The turkey is done when it's crispy, and yummy! You can eat mashed potatoes, green beans, and corn with the turkey. For dessert you can eat chocolate cake.

17. Zane St. Clair - Get a turkey at County Market. Before you cook

it you need to turn on the stove. Put cinnamon, and sugar on the turkey. Next put apple juice on it. Then put it in the stove. Cook the turkey at 4 degrees for 6 weeks. The turkey is done when the timer beeps. The turkey will be red. You can eat pepper, spaghetti, and some meatballs with the turkey. For dessert you can eat biscuits and gravy!

18. Mae Taylor - Get a turkey from the Walmart store; it's by my dance class. Before you cook it you need to un-wrap the turkey. Cover it up with foil. Next, you put it in the oven. Cook the turkey at 3 degrees for 6 mins. The turkey is done when it gets brown. You need to put some vegetables around the turkey. The vegetables help you get strong. You can eat mashed potatoes, crackers, and green beans with the turkey. For dessert you can eat yogurt.

FESTIVAL

"I'd love to see every store front in the downtown area decked out for the holiday season."

Blaylock pointed out the festival needs to be taken over properly by an organization and built upon.

"It could be great way for local businesses to participate with special sales and open houses, too," she said. "Not just downtown...all over town."

Entries to the lighted parade are also still being sought from the community.

Walkers and any kind of float are welcome, including motorcycles, four-wheelers, other ATVs, golf carts, bicycles and anything else the imagination can muster. Entries, including individuals walking, must have a lighted feature. Blow-up yard decor is allowed to be used.

There is no entry fee and the following prizes will be awarded: Best Overall, Most Original, Best-Dressed Walkers, Most Lighted, Best Decorated and Most Animated. Other awards may be added as well.

Those interested in taking part should contact Cindy Blaylock or Kathy Smith.

Floats will be organized around Sunset Park at 4:30 p.m. and walkers will organize on the south side of 8th and Georgia Streets. The parade will take place at 5 p.m.

A visit from Santa Claus and other events will take place at Flansburg Park (at 4th and Georgia Streets) following the parade.

Winners of the Miss Snowflake, Junior Miss Snow Queen and Miss Snow Queen will be announced.

COMMUNITY NEWS

The Origin Of Thanksgiving Day

In August 1620, the Mayflower, a 180-ton ship, set sail from Southampton, England. After difficulties with the vessel, resulting in her return to port, finally the voyage began. Her 102 passengers were to become some of the founding pilgrims of the United States of America, and the initiators of one of this nation's most popular holidays.

After weeks of plowing through the tumultuous Atlantic waters, battling strong winds, pounding waves and a number of problems with their vessel, the pilgrims spotted Cape Cod, off the coast of Massachusetts. The stormy weather was brewing so strongly that they had arrived there by accident. Their intended location was off the Virginia coast, where other pilgrims had begun colonies.

Before anchoring at Plymouth Rock and disembarking to explore the territory, the pilgrims devised the "Mayflower Compact." This was to serve as the basis for governing their new colony, where all would have the freedom to worship God as they chose.

The compact stated, "We whose names are underwritten, the loyal subjects of our dread sovereign lord King James... Having undertaken, for the glory of God, and advancement of the Christian faith, and honor of our king and country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the northern parts of Virginia, do by these presents solemnly and mutually in the presence of God and one of another, covenant, and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation, and furtherance of the ends aforesaid; and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, offices from time to time, as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the colony; unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof we have hereunder subscribed our names; Cape Cod, the 11th of November..."

" (Mourt's Relation: A Journal of the Pilgrims at Plymouth).

The next few months would prove to be difficult and trying. More than half of the original pilgrims did not survive the first, long, bleak New England winter. Often, two or three people would die in one day due to infection and sickness.

But, with the approaching of spring came new hope. The survivors built homes and planted crops. They made friendships with local Indian tribes, and traded with them. The passing of winter allowed the pilgrims to labor and produce, causing the colony to flourish.

After reaping their first harvest in the fall of 1621, the pilgrims dedicated a day for thanking God for the bounty with which He had blessed them. They had endured the many hardships that came with pioneering a new land. They toiled through building an entire colony from what was simply wilderness. They were at peace with their neighbors. And they were especially grateful for their harvest. This allowed them to gather and store plentiful food and crops for the long and brutal winter ahead.

Their governor, William Bradford, proclaimed a day of thanksgiving toward God. They prepared a great feast to enjoy with family and friends—both from within the colony and with neighboring Indian tribes.

The following quotes from America's God and Country demonstrate Bradford's and the colony's thankfulness for God's protection and blessings:

"Being thus arrived in a good harbor, and brought safe to land, they fell upon their knees and blessed the God of Heaven who had brought them over the vast and furious ocean, and delivered them from all the perils and miseries thereof, again to set their feet on the firm and stable earth, their proper element."

In reminiscing upon the colony's success, Bradford continued, "Thus out of small beginnings greater things have been produced by His hand that made all things of nothing, and gives being to all things that are; and, as one small candle may light a thousand, so the light here kindled hath shone unto many, yea in some sort to our whole nation; let the glorious name of [God] have all the praise" (ibid.).

Clearly, pilgrims of the Plymouth colony gave God credit for all that they had. Notice the many references to God, and their acknowledgement of how He granted them so many blessings. The pilgrim's beliefs were firmly entrenched in the realization of God's presence and intervention in their everyday lives. Thanksgiving Day began because of this belief. It is a day dedicated to giving thanks to God for the many things we often take for granted.

Over the years, many colonies did keep Thanksgiving, but they kept various other days of thanksgiving, at different times of the year. It is a popular misconception that the pilgrims kept Thanksgiving on the same day each year following the first celebration in 1621, and that the other colonies began keeping that same day. In truth, it was a tradition always used to highlight and show gratitude for important events, such as bountiful harvests, victories in battle, etc. Whenever these took place, the colony called for the celebration of a day of thanksgiving.

In the late 1700s, during the American Revolution, the Continental Congresses suggested the yearly observance of a day of national thanksgiving, in hopes to unite factional states.

In 1817, the state of New York adopted Thanksgiving Day as an annual holiday. By the mid-1800s, other states likewise adopted the practice. In 1863, President Lincoln appointed it as a national holiday, and gave a Thanksgiving proclamation. Each president since then has issued a proclamation, announcing the celebration of this day.

BICENTENNIAL

"According to my understanding of his character he was a great man, and justice to his memory as well as a true history of the times in which he lived demand a true and impartial history of his life and public services," the author said.

The judge related many stories from what was a remarkable life. Benton was born in 1782 in North Carolina, the son of a wealthy attorney. He was kicked out of the University of North Carolina in 1799 for stealing. Characteristically, he did not go silently.

"I am leaving here now, but damn you, you will hear from me again," Benton promised.

The so-called young man relocated to Tennessee, became a lawyer, and in 1815 moved to Missouri. He and David Barton were chosen as Missouri's first two U.S. Senators. Benton would become one of the nation's most powerful politicians.

Fagg was on hand as the 64-year-old Democrat strolled into the Pike County Courthouse and came across an older man who had supported the Whigs, a precursor of the Republican Party.

The man reminded Benton that "he had met him in Tennessee and was a member of the jury in Benton's first case after he commenced practicing law," Fagg wrote.

The personal property suit involved pumpkins. Benton said he recalled the case and shook the older man's hand.

"I was right, wasn't I?" Fagg quotes Benton as saying.

"Yes," the old line Whig answered, "but I'll be damned if you haven't been wrong ever since."

Fagg said Benton had a "look of intense disgust" as he turned away.

"The hell you say?" Benton replied tersely.

State legislatures chose U.S. senators at the time and in 1851, Benton was not nominated for another term. The decision almost certainly resulted from his reversal on the slavery issue the year before, when the former slaveholder said he was now "against the institution." The stand defied the Democrat Party and many constituents.

Benton served one term in the U.S. House, but lost an election for Missouri governor in 1856. Despite being rejected by many Democrats, he remained rebelliously true to his party — voting against his Republican son-in-law, John C. Fremont, in the 1856 presidential election.

One of the many books written about him was published in 1886 by an up-and-coming Republican named Theodore Roosevelt. He said Benton's "rugged figure" had "never been given its proper place" in American politics.

"The man who represented Missouri when she was the westernmost State, with all the frontier virtues, but also with all the frontier limitations and narrow prejudices, could not well avoid making what, by our standard, we should call mistakes; but we cannot refuse the meed of generous praise who was always entirely honest and entirely courageous," Roosevelt said.

Benton also is cited in "Profiles in Courage" by Democrat President John F. Kennedy.

"Benton's was a noble personage," Fagg wrote. "His was a stalwart frame, above the ordinary height and with a physical constitution well preserved by a life of prudent, temperate habits, he had the proud, dignified appearance of the Roman Senator."

Benton published a massive autobiography, "Thirty Years' View," but it doesn't mention Fagg or Pike County. He died in Washington at age 76 on April 10, 1858. Benton was related to the artist who also bears the name.

Fagg served as a Pike County judge for 15 years, was a member of the Missouri General Assembly and spent two years on the state's high court. He died at age 92 on Oct. 26, 1914, and is buried in Louisiana's Riverview Cemetery.

Benton could not have predicted the intensity of political hatred shown in the 21st century, but the following appears near the end of his 1854 autobiography. Though the topic is slavery, the words could have easily been written about the political climate of 2018.

"A sectional question now divides the Union, arraying one-half against the other, becoming more exasperated daily — which has already destroyed the benefits of the Union, and which, unless checked, will also destroy its form."

DAR Chapter Marks 100th Anniversary Of WWI

Members of Pike County Chapter NSDAR heard the story of the "war to end all wars" at the Nov. 3 meeting at First Presbyterian Church in Louisiana.

Chaplain Lois Stark told a brief history of World War I and the Armistice Day celebrations of the end of the war. In June, 1954, the name Armistice Day, which was November 11, was changed to Veterans Day and veterans of all wars are honored. The chapter collected items for the residents of the Mexico Veterans Home which were delivered on Nov. 11.

Chapter Regent Marilyn Johnson presided and led the opening ritual assisted by the Chaplain. Following the President General's message, reports were given on National Defense, Conservation and American Indians. A collection was received for an Indian Summer Camp scholarship.

Treasurer Sandy Niemeyer represented the chapter for the Literacy Day project with fund donated for purchases at the school's Book Fair. Johnson was elected as the chapter delegate to the state conference.

Johnson and Secretary Beverly Cogar attended the visit of MSSDAR State Regent Cindy Suich to the Northeast District on October 27 in Hannibal. Other chapters attending were Susannah Randolph of Vandalia, Bowling Green and Hannibal Heritage. Suich outlined the current MSSDAR projects and encouraged the chapters to work on increasing membership.

Chapter members will again be teaching the Junior Achievement course for 8th grade students beginning in November. Literacy chairman Liz Wallace, 8th grade teacher, is making the arrangements for the classes.

The Saturday, Dec. 8 chapter meeting will be held at MSSDAR State Headquarters, Roslyn Heights, in Boonville. Members will meet at 9 am at the church to carpool. Following a tour of the home which will be decorated for the Christmas season, they will enjoy lunch and a brief meeting will be held.
