Rains Cause Flooding To Worsen In Clarksville

Weekend rains has caused the flooding situation to worsen in Clarksville.

The Mississippi River climbed above major flood stage and unofficially tied the record Sunday for the seventh highest level in the community's 202-year history.

Additional sandbags are being put in place to save homes, businesses and the post office.

It is already too late for Highway 79, which is closed north and south of Clarksville. The best way in and out now is Route W or county gravel roads. Highway 79 also remains closed by flooding in Louisiana.

A crest just above 34 feet was expected Monday or early Tuesday in Clarksville. Despite the rising water, several businesses remain open, and Clarksville United Methodist Church continues feeding flood-fighters once a day.

Additional supplies and donations of money are welcome. Prison inmates were expected in town Monday to help with sandbagging.

If anyone is interested in how to help, please call Clarksville City Hall at 573-242-3336.

Pike County 911 Operation To Move Into New Facility

APRIL M. FRONICK • EDITOR
april@thepeopletribune.com

A great deal has already been accomplished to get the newly consolidated 911 operation for Pike County up and running.

The Pike County Commission installed a board of directors after voters passed the initiative last year which now funds the life-saving dispatch operation. That board will change with the election today (Tuesday, April 2). Commissioners and board members are confident that the transition will once again be smooth and progress can continue at the rate it has been going.

Dispatchers will be moving into the temporary location behind the Pike County Sheriff's Department this week. The trailer has a security system and features a dispatch area with three complete stations, a training area, a conference room (where all future 911 meetings will be held), a breakroom/employee lounge, and offices for the 911 director and an assistant.

Utilities have been set up to accommodate future growth if the operation expands into a permanent building at that site. Commissioners have indicated that will provide land for future development much like the growth of the satellite ambulance station nearby.

The board that was installed following the vote seven months ago to consolidate the 911 efforts included people from diverse backgrounds with a wealth of knowledge from law enforcement to banking to construction to emergency management and more. Those seven members included: Kevin Keeley, Fire Chief Larry LaFave, Sheriff Stephen Korte, Bowling Green Mayor Don Hunter, PCMH Ambulance Director Reesa VanHooser, Pike County Emergency Management Director Al Murry and Mary Millan.

The board hired Jim Porter as the new Pike County 911 Director. He has a great deal of knowledge setting up 911 operations. Most recently he set up the operation in Washington County.

MDC's 'Discover Nature' Girls' Camp Presents An Excellent Opportunity

The Missouri Department of Conservation (MDC) is now accepting registrations for Discover Nature Girls Camp to be held July 22-23 at Mark Twain State Park's Camp Si Colburn in Monroe County.

Discover Nature Girls' Camp is a FREE two-day, one-night camp held by MDC for girls ages 11-15.

This camp will give them a supportive learning environment to actively participate in "hands-on" outdoor skills led by experts in their field.

One of the goals of camp is to encourage participants to leave with the confidence to explore Missouri's diverse outdoors on their own.

Of all the experiences a girl can have during her childhood, few offer the profound, life-changing power of camp. She has the opportunity to grow her self-esteem, explore the great outdoors, make new friends and have great experiences she will not soon forget.

Girls will learn about firearm safety, fishing, conservation management and ethics, water safety and basic canoeing, archery, hunting and other outdoor skills.

Missouri Celebrates National Public Health Week, April 1-7

The Missouri Department of Health and Senior Services (DHSS) is celebrating National Public Health Week (NPHW), April 1-7, 2019, by highlighting the power of prevention, managing successful public health partnerships and championing the role of a strong public health system.

"During the last 100 years, the average lifespan of Missourians has increased by 30 years, thanks partly due to state public health efforts," said Dr. Randall Williams, DHSS Director. "We greatly appreciate the tireless work of our local health departments and public health leaders throughout the state who are working to improve both the quality and longevity of life for our citizens. These Missourians are the epitome of public service as they work to protect health and keep people safe in our state."

NPHW is celebrated each year during the first week of April. This year's state theme is Missouri's Call to Action: Public Health Matters.

Investing in prevention and public health can make an enormous difference and it plays a critical role in keeping individuals and communities healthy. Some of the greatest achievements of public health include vaccinations, safer work places, safer and healthier foods, control of infectious diseases, fluoridation of drinking water, public health preparedness and recognition of tobacco use as a health hazard.

Each day of NPHW 2019, DHSS will focus on a different public health topic to move Missouri forward in bettering the health of its citizens. Monday's theme is Infant, Child and Adolescent Health; Tuesday's theme is Opioids, Violence and Suicide Prevention; Wednesday's theme is Rural Health; Thursday's theme is Technology and Public Health; and Friday's theme is Maternal and Women's Health.

With water streaming up against a sandbag wall in downtown Clarksville, visitors can readily do what the welcome sign says -- "Touch the Mississippi." See page 7 for more photos from the flooding situation in Clarksville.

Twin Pike Family YMCA Starts New Program - One-To-One Reach, Rise

The Twin Pike Family YMCA announces a new One-to-One Reach and Rise® Program Director.

Lynsie Hunt will continue the positive mentoring program for Pike County, Missouri and Pike County, Ill. Reach & Rise® Mentoring Program is a national YMCA program designed to build a better future for at-risk youth by helping them reach their full potential through the support of caring adult, volunteer mentors.

Adult mentors are matched with a young person for a one year time period to provide one-to-one mentoring services and create safe, healthy and meaningful relationships with their youth. Mentors will meet with their matched children 1-3 hours each week throughout the year and engage in meaningful activities and interact with youth in a therapeutic way, helping them move from risk to resiliency.

“With the mentor program moving forward, we know that Lynsie will be an asset to the community, our mentors and mentees. We'll have a transition from the past director, Judy Shearon, so Lynsie continues services and recruitment for the YMCA,” comments Kara Viorel, Interim Executive Director.

Since 2013, the mentoring program has reached over 8,400 volunteer hours by local mentors. Youth referrals are taken from school counselors, family services staff, juvenile justice authorities, concerned family and community members. There is no cost to youth who are accepted into the Reach & Rise Program. The YMCA facility is available for use by mentors and their matched youth at no charge. Learn more about Reach & Rise® Mentoring by contacting our facilities at 573-754-4497.

They are proud to offer this special mentoring service to help with child development and brighten the futures of children.

Clarksville Continues To Battle Flooding Issues

PIKE 911

Porter says the consolidation and enhancement efforts for Pike County's operation are going quickly and smoothly so far.

Prior to the vote seven months ago, 911 dispatching efforts were split with one operation in the Sheriff's Department and a satellite operation in the Louisiana Police Department.

Dispatchers were hired from both operations and training has been done with much more training on the horizon. Porter said the dispatchers are eager to be as knowledgeable as possible.

The mapping system for Pike County's operation will also be greatly improved. This will also help to streamline communications with all of the emergency branches such as law enforcement, fire and medical services.

"We want to make sure we have the most reliable and accurate maps possible," Porter asserted.

While PCMH has still been dispatching ambulances, that will soon be folded into Pike County 911 so that everything is dispatched from one location to increase response time. Porter said the new mapping system will also help to speed the response time.

"We are going to make Pike County 911 the best dispatch in the state," Porter remarked. "The commissioners couldn't have done a better job of putting that board together. They have done a great job of getting things off the ground and planning for the future."

Dispatchers should be moving into their new headquarters this week. The trailer has three complete stations. With 911 now fully funded, there are two dispatchers on duty at all times with a third on duty at certain times.

A secure building was also constructed at the site to house all of the servers, recording equipment and other technology. Dispatchers could even be moved into that building to operate if needed.

Porter noted the current roster of dispatchers have been excellent to work with and are truly professionals. He added that all have been willing to learn and adjust quickly and have expressed a desire to take on more training.

"We want to make sure we are constantly training and auditing ourselves," Porter said. "We want to maximize our resources."

The board will change after the election today (April 2). It is hoped that will not slow down progress.

Western District Commissioner Bill Allen said the work that has been done already to consolidate and enhance 911 operations is outstanding.

"They have done an excellent job moving forward and jumping the hurdles."

Presiding Commissioner Chris Gamm added the board has already accomplished what it has taken other places several years to do.

Eastern District Commissioner Justin Sheppard pointed out that funding had always been the biggest obstacle previously and is proud of what has been accomplished so far.

"I'm proud of the work done by the advisory panel that began crafting a rough plan one what we needed in Pike County. We wouldn't be where we are today without their hard work," Sheppard remarked. "I'm also proud of our first 911 board and all they have accomplished in a short amount of time. As a career first responder, and citizen, I'm glad the people of Pike County voted to adequately fund a county 911 system."

Van-Far Golfers Emerge Victorious At Quad Meet

Bowling Green Takes 2nd, Clopton Is 3rd, Louisiana Is 4th

Louisiana hosted Van-Far, Clopton and Bowling Green for a quad meet on Wednesday, March 27.

Van-Far emerged victorious with a score of 180. Bowling Green golfers finished second with a combined score of 203. Clopton came in third with a score of 207 and Louisiana took fourth with a score of 236.

Rylee Hanson was the medalist for Van-Far with a 38. Jayson Orr was third overall with 45. Ashton Garnett was fourth overall with 48. Zane Allen and Ethan Winders were fifth overall with 49 and Haley Bassett finished the day with a score of 51.

Coach Melissa Orr said they were very pleased with the team's performance at the meet.

"Four of the six golfers improved their scores from the first meet. All of the golfers went into this meet with a positive mindset and continued it throughout their round, even when a shot or a hole wasn't their best - meeting our team goal. Our plan is to continue working on short games, focusing on putting."

Individual scores for Louisiana included Remi Feldewerth leading the way with a 45 (third place overall). Tegan Carrington and Aaron Windmiller each finished the day at 63, Kellen Dewey ended at 65 and David Whitehead finished the day with a score of 70.

Individual scores for Bowling Green and Clopton were requested, but were not received by press time for this week's edition.

Orr noted that Van-Far was set to host a quad meet on Thursday, March 28 that included Bowling Green, Silix and Montgomery County participating. Due to stormy weather entering the area, golfers were required to end their rounds and the meet was cancelled.
